THINGS WORTH SEEING

There are only two important changes at the theatres this week: Digby Bell in "The Education of Mr. Pipp," comes to the Park Theatre, and "Babes in the Wood," direct from a run in New York, with three hundred people, including England's greatest pantomimist, Fred Walton, is at the Boston Theatre. By special arrangement with Mr. George Edwardes, Charles Frohman will present William Gillette in "Clarice" at Hollis Street Theatre all this week. Viola Allen remains at the Colonial Theatre for another week's engagement in the Clyde Fitch comedy, "The Toast of the Town." Marie Cahill has scored another triumph in her musical comedy, "Molly Moonshine," at the Tremont Theatre. "Wonderland," the facinating musical fantasy, has scored a big hit at the Majestic. Ford & Gehrue are in "Lovers and Lunatics," at the Globe Theatre. The Empire Stock Company offers "The Little Minister," as this week's attraction at the Empire Theatre. The Castle Square has "Alabama." "Happy Hooligan in a Trip Around the World" is at the Grand Opera House. Vaudeville at Keith's and the Howard. Burlesque at the Lyceum, Columbia and Palace.

One of the handsomest conservatories in this country is that of Mr. Thomas F. Galvin on the corner of Boylston and Fairfield streets. It is well worth a visit, not only on account of the architectural beauty of the building, but also for the large variety of rare plants with which it is stocked.

Old North Church. — More properly Christ Church. Salem Street, foot of Hull Street. Dedicated 1723. From its steeple were displayed Paul Revere's signal lanterns, April 18, 1775. Opened by sexton on application. Fee, 25 cents.

The collections of the Museum of Fine Arts are among the first in the world; and illustrate the art of Egypt, Greece, Rome, the Orient, and modern Europe and America. The galleries contain paintings, sculpture, textiles, ceramics, iron and wood work, prints, together with examples of precious objects. There are also numerous reproductions and an art library. Photographs of objects in Museum on sale at entrance.

Among other things worth seeing is the

SHOPPING NEWS

If you are looking for odd articles that are artistic and different from anything obtainable in this country, visit the Russian Importing Co.'s store at 355 Boylston Street.

Millar & Weltch, the opticians at 38 West Street, are offering a choice line of Opera Glasses, Window Thermometers, Reading Glasses and other optical goods. Their prices are reasonable and their goods first-class.

The Wm. H. Richardson Company, at 388 Washington Street, are showing their line of shirtings for the spring and summer of 1906. Also a New Idea in a flannel shirt with a high band collar fastened with a gold safety pin—the very latest New York novelty.

Professional people should take advantage of the special sale of make-up boxes at the Klein Pharmacy, opposite Hotel Touraine, all this week. A black enamelled box, with handle, tray, lock and key complete, for thirty-seven cents. This box can be fitted out with everything required as make-up from a full line of Hess, Meyer's or Leichmer's goods and the celebrated Ylang Ylang Cold Cream.

An opening of Spring styles and shades of neckwear for men, and a large importation of hand embroidered waist patterns for ladies are the two strong showings of Blanchard, King & Co., 250 Boylston Street, for this week.

The Fur Shop between Boylston Street and the Tremont Theatre is having a genuine clearance sale, the first in eight years. The reduction of twenty to forty per cent in price on their entire stock of fine furs will mean something to patrons who know the Kakas Brothers' reputation in this line.

At the H. A. Winship trunk and bag store, 16 Tremont Street, they are sole agents for the Chinese made trunk, which is so light and durable that any one going to European or Mediterranean ports this winter should not fail to see them.

The Chandler & Barber hardware house at 124 Summer Street are showing a complete line of both ice and roller skates in all the up-to-date styles. They are also headquarters for sleds, snowshoes, hockey sticks, etc.

The Paul West Company, at 408 Boylston Street, are showing a line of Colonial Antique Furniture collected by one of the greatest living connoisseurs of this art and contains pieces not generally found. All the reproductions which they handle and special order furniture are made in their own factory, including all upholstery work.

DID YOU EVER THINK
now absolutely essential to the pleasure of eating is a cheery, homelike atmosphere? We are very proud of the
RATHSKELLER ATMOSPHERE
We have spent a good deal of money to make it just right, and those who dine with us tell us that it was money well expended. There is one thing, however, in which we take even more pride, and that is
RATHSKELLER FOOD
It is just a little bit better than, a little bit tastier than can be found anywhere else in Boston. And the best part of it is that our prices are a little lower than any other first-class hotel in the city.

IF A MAN'S IN LOVE

THAT'S his business. If a girl's in love, that's her business. If any one is in love with GOOD PRINTING, that's our business. We do modern printing at modern prices. : : : : :

SHOPPING NEWS

Burditt & Williams Company, 4 High Street, corner Summer, have lately consolidated at this spacious store the business which they formerly conducted in two stores and are better than ever prepared to meet the requirements of those looking for fine table and pocket cutlery, mechanics' tools, chafing dishes and kindred furnishings.

If you are looking for odd articles that are artistic and different from anything obtainable in this country, visit the Russian Importing Co.'s store at 355 Boylston Street.

Millar & Weltch, the opticians at 38 West Street, are offering a choice line of Opera Glasses, Window Thermometers, Reading Glasses and other optical goods. Their prices are reasonable and their goods first class.

The Wm. H. Richardson Company, at 388 Washington Street, are showing their line of shirtings for the spring and summer of 1906. Also a New Idea in a flannel shirt with a high band collar fastened with a gold safety pin – the very latest New York novelty.

The finest line of antique Oriental rugs ever shown in this city are on exhibition at the Thomas O'Callaghan & Co. store, 30 Summer Street. Their corps of experienced salesmen will give you reliable information that may be of great value in selecting rugs.

An opening of Spring styles and shades of neckwear for men, and a large importation of hand embroidered waist patterns for ladies are the two strong showings of Blanchard, King & Co., 250 Boylston Street, for this week.

The Fur Shop between Boylston Street and the Tremont Theatre is having a genuine clearance sale, the first in eight years. The reduction of twenty to forty per cent in price on their entire stock of fine furs will mean something to patrons who know the Kakas Brothers' reputation in this line.

At the H. A. Winship trunk and bag store, 16 Tremont Street, they are sole agents for the Chinese made trunk, which is so light and durable that any one going to European or Mediterranean ports this winter should not fail to see them.

An importation of new shirtings to be made up for spring and summer wear are being shown at Josiah T. Dyer's, 34 Boylston Street.

DID YOU EVER THINK
now absolutely essential to the pleasure of eating is a cheery, homelike atmosphere? We are very proud of the
RATHSKELLER ATMOSPHERE
We have spent a good deal of money to make it just right, and those who dine with us tell us that it was money well expended. There is one thing, however, in which we take even more pride, and that is
RATHSKELLER FOOD
It is just a little bit better than, a little bit tastier than can be found anywhere else in Boston. And the best part of it is that our prices are a little lower than any other first-class hotel in the city.

IF A MAN'S IN LOVE

THAT'S his business. If a girl's in love, that's her business. If any one is in love with GOOD PRINTING, that's our business. We do modern printing at modern prices. : : : : :

THINGS WORTH SEEING

Robert Edeson returns to the Park Theatre for an engagement of two weeks, presenting "Strongheart," the play which ran for ten weeks at the Park last season. At the Majestic Theatre Charles Frohman presents "Mizpah," a new biblical play by Ella Wheeler Wilcox, founded upon the love romance of Queen Esther. The play is in four acts and ten scenes with a cast of one hundred people, and its reported success in other cities would indicate that this drama will be very popular here. Paula Edwardes comes to the Tremont Theatre in her new comedy opera, "Princess Beggar." Maxine Elliott is at the Hollis for the last week in "Her Great Match," and that eminent English actor, Mr. E. S. Willard, will be at the Colonial all this week in repertoire. The "Babes in the Wood" has scored a big hit at the Boston Theatre. The Empire Stock Company are putting on an elaborate production of the famous melodrama, "My Partner," at the Empire Theatre. Ernest Hogan, "The Unbleached American," in "Rufus Rastus," returns to the Globe Theatre for one more week. The Castle Square Theatre has "A Lady of Quality" as the attraction this week. The big melodrama, "After Midnight," at the Grand Opera House. Continuous Vaudeville at Keith's, Burlesque at the Howard, Lyceum, Columbia and Palace.

Old Granary Burying Ground, Tremont Street. between Beacon and Park. Here lie most of the personages of historic Boston; seven early governors,—Bellingham, Dummer, Hancock, Adams, Bowdoin, Eustis, Sumner; Peter Faneuil; Paul Revere; the parents of Benjamin Franklin; the victims of the Boston Massacre; Robert Treat Paine, signer of the Declaration; John Phillips, first mayor of Boston and many others. So called from town granary on site of Park Street Church. Admission permit at City Hall.

Bunker Hill Monument — Monument Square, Charlestown. A granite obelisk, 221 feet high, on Breed's Hill, within the lines of the American redoubt which was the centre of the battle of Bunker Hill June 17, 1775. Revolutionary relics. Winding stairway of 295 steps to top. 8 to 6. Fee 20 cents.

SHOPPING NEWS

The models of spring and summer suits now shown at L. P. Hollander & Co.'s, Boylston Street and Park Square, are designed mainly for the Southern season, which is becoming more and more important in the world of fashion. Biscuit-color and string-color are still popular in linen suits, and the princess gowns in lawn and mull and other delicate fabrics bid fair to be increasingly fashionable in 1906. Most of the new coat suits have the circular skirt, and it is well to consider, in buying such a suit, whether the laundress will ruin the shape of it the first time it is tubbed. On this account it pays to get such garments at reputable houses where the tailoring is well done. There is no economy in getting a bargain suit that is unwearable after one washing. There is great economy in paying a good price for a thing that will look well as long as there is anything left of it.

In the flowery language of De Quincey the little shop at 355 Boylston Street could have been styled "the emporium of the daintiest articles." It is an artistic treat to visit this shop of the Russian Importing Company and see the wonderful handicraft of the Russian peasant.

The Macullar Parker Company, at 400 Washington Street, are having their Final Price Reduction Sale for the season and unusual opportunities are offered to select desirable merchandise in the broken lots in men's and boys' clothing and furnishing departments.

Burditt & Williams Company, 4 High Street, corner Summer, have lately consolidated at this spacious store the business which they formerly conducted in two stores, and are better than ever prepared to meet the requirements of those looking for fine table and pocket cutlery, mechanics' tools, chafing dishes and kindred furnishings.

The finest line of antique Oriental rugs ever shown in this city are on exhibition at the Thomas O'Callaghan & Co. store, 30 Summer Street. Their corps of experienced salesmen will give you reliable information that may be of great value in selecting rugs.

An opening of Spring styles and shades of neckwear for men, and a large importation of hand embroidered waist patterns for ladies are the two strong showings of Blanchard, King & Co., 250 Boylston Street, for this week.

The Fur Shop between Boylston Street and the Tremont Theatre is having a genuine clearance sale, the first in eight years. The reduction of twenty to forty per cent in price on their entire stock of fine furs will mean something to patrons who know the Kakas Brothers' reputation in this line.

Miss Fisk's shop at 144 Tremont Street is a wonderfully attractive place. There is a splendid showing of everything in Gloves and up-to-date neckwear, belts and veilings, also a large line of lingerie waists, in beautiful designs, so carefully shaped and made that they are equal to custom ones.

DID YOU EVER THINK
now absolutely essential to the pleasure of eating is a cheery, homelike atmosphere? We are very proud of the
RATHSKELLER ATMOSPHERE
We have spent a good deal of money to make it just right, and those who dine with us tell us that it was money well expended. There is one thing, however, in which we take even more pride, and that is
RATHSKELLER FOOD
It is just a little bit better than, a little bit tastier than can be found anywhere else in Boston. And the best part of it is that our prices are a little lower than any other first-class hotel in the city.

IF A MAN'S IN LOVE

THAT'S his business. If a girl's in love, that's her business. If any one is in love with GOOD PRINTING, that's our business. We do modern printing at modern prices. : : : : :

THINGS WORTH SEEING

Robert Edeson at the Park Theatre for the last week presenting "Strongheart," the play which ran for ten weeks at the Park last season. At the Majestic Theatre Charles Frohman presents "Mizpah," a new biblical play by Ella Wheeler Wilcox, founded upon the love romance of Queen Esther. The play is in four acts and ten scenes with a cast of one hundred people, and has scored a big success. Paula Edwardes is at the Tremont Theatre in her new comedy opera, "Princess Beggar." William H. Crane opens at the Hollis Street Theatre in his farcical comedy triumph, "The American Lord," and Frank Daniels comes to the Colonial in his latest musical comedy "Sergeant Brue." The great New England play, "Way Down East," with the original cast, opens at the Boston Theatre for a two weeks' engagement. The Empire Stock Company are putting on an elaborate production of "Dorothy Vernon of Haddon Hall," at the Empire Theatre. "His Last Dollar" is the attraction at the Globe Theatre. The Castle Square Theatre has "The Secret of Polichinelle" as the attraction this week. The big melodrama, "At the World's Mercy," at the Grand Opera House. Continuous Vaudeville at Keith's, Burlesque at the Howard, Lyceum, Columbia and Palace.

Harry Houdini, "The King of the Handcuffs," will be the special feature at Keith's Theatre the week of February 26. Houdini is the only man in the world the police can not keep in jail. He has been handcuffed by the chief of police of all the principal cities of America and Europe, and as yet there has not been found a handcuff which he could not get out of in a few minutes. The strongest Siberian jails failed to hold this wonderful man. Mr. Houdini has just returned to America after five years' tour of Europe.

Old Granary Burying Ground, Tremont Street. between Beacon and Park. Here lie most of the personages of historic Boston; seven early governors,—Bellingham, Dummer, Hancock, Adams, Bowdoin, Eustis, Sumner; Peter Faneuil; Paul Revere; the parents of Benjamin Franklin; the victims of the Boston Massacre; Robert Treat Paine, signer of the Declaration; John Phillips, first mayor of Boston and many others. So called from town granary on site of Park Street Church. Admission permit at City Hall.

SHOPPING NEWS

The Smith Patterson Company, Diamond Merchants, Jewelers and Silversmiths at 52 Summer Street, carry the largest stock of diamonds and precious stones in New England, and we advise all intending purchasers in this line to see their stock. They invite a comparison of prices.

An opening of Spring styles and shades of neckwear for men, and a large importation of hand embroidered waist patterns for ladies are the two strong showings of Blanchard, King & Co., 250 Boylston Street, for this week.

The Fur Shop between Boylston Street and the Tremont Theatre is having a genuine clearance sale, the first in eight years. The reduction of twenty to forty per cent in price on their entire stock of fine furs will mean something to patrons who know the Kakas Brothers' reputation in this line

Miss Fisk's shop at 144 Tremont Street is a wonderfully attractive place. There is a splendid showing of everything in Gloves and up-to-date neckwear, belts and veilings, also a large line of lingerie waists, in beautiful designs, so carefully shaped and made that they are equal to custom ones.

The Macullar Parker Company, at 400 Washington Street, are having their Final Price Reduction Sale for the season and unusual opportunities are offered to select desirable merchandise in the broken lots in men's and boys' clothing and furnishing departments.

Chandler & Barber, the hardware house at 126 Summer Street, have just completed inventory and have made great reductions regardless of cost in the line of tools, builders' hardware, etc.

Josiah T. Dyer, the haberdasher at 34 Boylston Street, is showing some very desirable novelties in fancy waistcoats for dress, semi-dress and day wear.

The models of spring and summer suits now shown at L. P. Hollander & Co.'s, Boylston Street and Park Square, are designed mainly for the Southern season, which is becoming more and more important in the world of fashion. Biscuit-color and string-color are still popular in linen suits, and the princess gowns in lawn and mull and other delicate fabrics bid fair to be increasingly fashionable in 1906. Most of the new coat suits have the circular skirt, and it is well to consider, in buying such a suit, whether the laundress will ruin the shape of it the first time it is tubbed. On this account it pays to get such garments at reputable houses where the tailoring is well done. There is no economy in getting a bargain suit that is unwearable after one washing. There is great economy in paying a good price for a thing that will look well as long as there is anything left of it.

IT'S easy to figure out why it is wise to attend to your eye ills in time. Many a headache comes from slight but constant strain of imperfect eyes.

Wrong glasses will increase the strain, while right glasses will relieve it.

Come to us with the first symptoms. We will examine your eyes and prescribe the proper lenses to correct the imperfections of the eyes.

DID YOU EVER THINK
now absolutely essential to the pleasure of eating is a cheery, homelike atmosphere? We are very proud of the
RATHSKELLER ATMOSPHERE
We have spent a good deal of money to make it just right, and those who dine with us tell us that it was money well expended. There is one thing, however, in which we take even more pride, and that is
RATHSKELLER FOOD
It is just a little bit better than, a little bit tastier than can be found anywhere else in Boston. And the best part of it is that our prices are a little lower than any other first-class hotel in the city.

THINGS WORTH SEEING

At the Tremont Theatre David Belasco will present Mrs. Leslie Carter n a repertoire of her notable creations, opening with " Adrea," for the first wo weeks of her engagement. At the Majestic Theatre Charles Frohman pre- ents " Mizpah," a new biblical play by Ella Wheeler Wilcox, founded upon he love romance of Queen Esther. The play is in four acts and ten scenes vith a cast of one hundred people, and has scored a big hit. May Irwin omes to the Park Theatre for a limited engagement in her delightful comedy, Mrs. Black is Back." This is the last week of Wm. H. Crane at the Iollis in his farcical comedy triumph, " The American Lord ;" also the last veek of Frank Daniels in " Sergeant Brue " at the Colonial, and " Way Down East " at the Boston Theatre. Kalb and Dill come to the Globe Theatre for one week's engagement in their farce comedy, " I. O. U." The Castle Square is putting on an elaborate production of Shakespeare's "Julius Cæsar." The Empire Stock Company will present that notable production, Rosedale," all this week at the Empire Theatre. The Grand Opera Iouse attraction this week is " Young Buffalo, King of the Wild West." Harry Houdini, " The King of the Handcuffs," is the special feature it Keith's Theatre this week. Houdini is the only man in the world he police can not keep in jail. He has been handcuffed by the chief of police of all the principal cities of America and Europe, and as yet here has not been found a handcuff which he could not get out of in a few minutes. The strongest Siberian jails failed to hold this mystic defier of ars and bolts. Mr. Houdini has just returned to America after five years' our of Europe. Burlesque at the Howard, Lyceum, Palace and Columbia.

The Music Hall Zoo, which has been opened to the public in the new uditorium recently constructed under the Empire Theatre gives promise of roving a most interesting and instructive exhibition. The collection of nimals shown represents some of the most notable specimens of foreign nd domestic beasts ever assembled in New England and the aviary and nonkey cage afford intense amusement to patrons. This exhibition is open rom 11 A. M. to 11 P. M. daily.

SHOPPING NEWS

In buying toilet articles one finds a difference in drug stores. Some of them sell toothpaste which hardens up and refuses to come out of the tube and toothbrushes which grow bald too early. At Klein's Pharmacy, opposite Hotel Touraine, the goods can be recommended as doing none of these things. They have recently put on sale a cold capsule which is one of the most gratifying remedies ever invented.

The E. T. Slattery Company, at 154 Tremont Street, are selling pretty suits at reduced prices. They are of various weights, some of the winter suits being quite available for spring and summer wear.

The Burditt & Williams Company, for nearly fifty years in Dock Square, have concentrated their extensive business at 4 High Street, corner Summer, and offer an unsurpassed assortment of fine cutlery, tools of every sort, general hardware and household supplies.

The Smith Patterson Company, Diamond Merchants, Jewelers and Silversmiths at 52 Summer Street, carry the largest stock of diamonds and precious stones in New England, and we advise all intending purchasers in this line to see their stock. They invite a comparison of prices.

An opening of Spring styles and shades of neckwear for men, and a large importation of hand embroidered waist patterns for ladies are the two strong showings of Blanchard, King & Co., 250 Boylston Street, for this week.

The beautiful Paris model street costumes and carriage gowns shown by V. Ballard & Sons, 256 Boylston Street, and the safety riding habit of their make are attracting those ladies who choose to be smartly costumed.

Chandler & Barber, the hardware house at 126 Summer Street, have just completed inventory and have made great reductions regardless of cost in the line of tools, builders' hardware, etc.

Josiah T. Dyer, the haberdasher at 34 Boylston Street, is showing some very desirable novelties in fancy waistcoats for dress, semi-dress and day wear.

The Paul West Company, at 408 Boylston Street, are showing a line of Colonial Antique Furniture collected by one of the greatest living connoisseurs of this art and contains pieces not generally found. All the reproductions which they handle and special order furniture are made in their own factory, including all upholstery work.

Hall & Hancock, at 420 Washington Street, are exhibiting their spring fashions in men's hats. The special hat they are selling for $3.50 is the best in workmanship, quality and style that can be produced for the money.

DID YOU EVER THINK
now absolutely essential to the pleasure of eating is a cheery, homelike atmosphere? We are very proud of the
RATHSKELLER ATMOSPHERE
We have spent a good deal of money to make it just right, and those who dine with us tell us that it was money well expended. There is one thing, however, in which we take even more pride, and that is
RATHSKELLER FOOD
It is just a little bit better than, a little bit tastier than can be found anywhere else in Boston. And the best part of it is that our prices are a little lower than any other first-class hotel in the city.

THE REAL THING
WORTH SEEING!

Charles Frohman
IS NOW PRESENTING
that Masterpiece of Oriental Splendor,

MIZPAH

The Drama of Queen Esther
By Ella Wheeler Wilcox and Luscombe Searelle
(With Musical Features by Mr. Searelle)

AT THE

MAJESTIC THEATRE
Tremont St.,
OPPOSITE TOURAINE HOTEL

CAST OF 100
TEN SCENES OF WONDROUS BEAUTY
PERSIAN BALLET
SONGS OF LOVE AND WAR

"Of all the Sumptuous Productions of Recent Years, none has surpassed this in Regal Magnificence and Artistic Beauty."—Boston Globe.

Matinees Wednesday and Saturday.
Evenings at 8. Final Curtain at 10.35.

THINGS WORTH SEEING

Eleanor Robson comes to the Hollis Street Theatre in Israel Zangwill's comedy, "Merely Mary Ann," and Mr. Richard Mansfield is at the Colonial Theatre for fourteen appearances in repertoire, opening Monday night in "Don Carlos." At the Tremont Theatre David Belasco presents Mrs. Leslie Carter in a repertoire of her notable creations, with "Adrea," for the second week of her engagement. At the Majestic Theatre Charles Frohman presents "Mizpah," a new biblical play by Ella Wheeler Wilcox, founded upon the love romance of Queen Esther. The play is in four acts and ten scenes with a cast of one hundred people, and has scored a big hit. May Irwin remains at the Park Theatre for a limited engagement in her delightful comedy, "Mrs. Black is Back," and the Paul Orleneff Russian Players are giving four special matinees of "The Chosen People," "Ghosts," "Zaza" and "Petty Persecution" at the Park Theatre this week. "The Pearl and the Pumpkin," with a company of one hundred and fifty people, including the famous Ercole-Ariaza, Castilian dancers and troubadours, comes to the Boston Theatre. "The Eternal City" is at the Globe Theatre for one week's engagement. The Castle Square is putting on an elaborate production of "The Fatal Card." The Empire Stock Company will present "When We were Twenty-One" all this week at the Empire Theatre. The Grand Opera House attraction this week is "King of the Opium Ring." Harry Houdini, "The King of the Handcuffs," is the special feature at Keith's Theatre this week. Houdini is the only man in the world the police can not keep in jail. He has been handcuffed by the chief of police of all the principal cities of America and Europe, and as yet there has not been found a handcuff which he could not get out of in a few minutes. The strongest Siberian jails failed to hold this mystic defier of bars and bolts. Mr. Houdini has just returned to America after five years' tour of Europe. Burlesque at the Howard, Lyceum, Palace and Columbia.

The Music Hall Zoo, which has been opened to the public in the new auditorium recently constructed under the Empire Theatre gives promise of proving a most interesting and instructive exhibition. The collection of animals shown represents some of the most notable specimens of foreign and domestic beasts ever assembled in New England and the aviary and monkey cage afford intense amusement to patrons. This exhibition is open from 11 A. M. to 11 P. M. daily.

SHOPPING NEWS

The Macullar Parker Company at 400 Washington Street have some excellent bargains in boys' and youth's clothing and furnishings. The department has been changed and enlarged, giving better facilities for the display of the goods and convenience of purchasers.

Hall & Hancock, at 420 Washington Street, are exhibiting their spring fashions in men's hats. The special hat they are selling for $3.50 is the best in workmanship, quality and style that can be produced for the money.

In buying toilet articles one finds a difference in drug stores. Some of them sell toothpaste which hardens up and refuses to come out of the tube and toothbrushes which grow bald too early. At Klein's Pharmacy, opposite Hotel Touraine, the goods can be recommended as doing none of these things. They have recently put on sale a cold capsule which is one of the most gratifying remedies ever invented.

The E. T. Slattery Company, at 154 Tremont Street, are selling pretty suits at reduced prices. They are of various weights, some of the winter suits being quite available for spring and summer wear.

The Burditt & Williams Company, for nearly fifty years in Dock Square, have concentrated their extensive business at 4 High Street, corner Summer, and offer an unsurpassed assortment of fine cutlery, tools of every sort, general hardware and household supplies.

The Smith Patterson Company, Diamond Merchants, Jewelers and Silversmiths at 52 Summer Street, carry the largest stock of diamonds and precious stones in New England, and we advise all intending purchasers in this line to see their stock. They invite a comparison of prices.

The handsomest display of Oriental rugs ever seen in Boston may be found on the R. H. White Company, third floor. There is a great sale now in progress of a famous collector's stock and in it are rugs of almost priceless value; one beauty being marked at $10,000 another at $4,750, but whatever the price it is not more than half what would ordinarily be asked for the same quality and weave of rug.

The Russian Importing Company, 355 Boylston Street, display a beautiful and attractive line of goods made by the Russian peasants in brass, copper, bronze, silver and woodenware, suitable for home decoration, prizes, etc.; also homespun linen, hand-made centrepieces, doylies and scarfs in drawn work, laces and waist patterns. Visitors are always welcome.

MONDAY, MARCH 5

DID YOU EVER THINK
now absolutely essential to the pleasure of eating is a cheery, homelike atmosphere? We are very proud of the
RATHSKELLER ATMOSPHERE
We have spent a good deal of money to make it just right, and those who dine with us tell us that it was money well expended. There is one thing, however, in which we take even more pride, and that is
RATHSKELLER FOOD
It is just a little bit better than, a little bit tastier than can be found anywhere else in Boston. And the best part of it is that our prices are a little lower than any other first-class hotel in the city.

THINGS WORTH SEEING

Mr. Richard Mansfield is at the Colonial Theatre all this week in repertoire, appearing as "Beau Brummel" on Monday night. Eleanor Robson will appear in her new play "The Girl who has Everything," written especially for her by Clyde Fitch. This is Miss Robson's last week at the Hollis Street Theatre. At the Tremont Theatre David Belasco presents Mrs. Leslie Carter in a repertoire of her notable creations, with "Zaza" for the third week of her engagement. This is the last week of "Mizpah," a new biblical play by Ella Wheeler Wilcox, founded upon the love romance of Queen Esther. The play is in four acts and ten scenes with a cast of one hundred people, and has scored a big hit at the Majestic Theatre. William Collier comes to the Park Theatre for a limited engagement in his delightful comedy, "On the Quiet," and the Paul Orleneff Russian Players are giving three special matinees of "Zaza," "The Inspector" and "Love and Intrigue," at the Park Theatre this week. "The Pearl and the Pumpkin," with a company of one hundred and fifty people, including the famous Ercole-Ariaza, Castilian dancers aud troubadours, is at the Boston Theatre. "Ben of Broken Bow Ranch" is at the Globe Theatre for one week's engagement. The Castle Square is putting on an elaborate production of "Prince Otto." The Empire Stock Company will present "Camille" all this week at the Empire Theatre. The Grand Opera House attraction this week is "The Curse of Drink." Harry Houdini "The King of the Handcuffs" is the special feature in a big vaudeville bill at Keith's this week. Burlesque at the Howard, Lyceum, Palace and Columbia.

The Music Hall Zoo, which has been opened to the public in the new auditorium recently constructed under the Empire Theatre, gives promise of proving a most interesting and instructive exhibition. The collection of animals shown represents some of the most notable specimens of foreign and domestic beasts ever assembled in New England and the aviary and monkey cage afford intense amusement to patrons. This exhibition is open from 11 A. M. to 11 P. M. daily.

The collections of the Museum of Fine Arts are among the first in the world; and illustrates the art of Egypt, Greece, Rome, the Orient, and modern Europe and America. The galleries contain paintings, sculpture, textiles, ceramics, iron and wood work, prints, together with examples of precious objects. There are also numerous reproductions and an art library. Photographs of objects in Museum on sale at entrance.

IT'S easy to figure out why it is wise to attend to your eye ills in time. Many a headache comes from slight but constant strain of imperfect eyes.

Wrong glasses will increase the strain, while right glasses will relieve it.

Come to us with the first symptoms. We will examine your eyes and prescribe the proper lenses to correct the imperfections of the eyes.

SHOPPING NEWS

The March Furniture sale now being held by the R. H. White Co. is characterized by the offering of most wonderful bargains in furniture samples. These samples were made by the different manufacturers to exhibit at the expositions held yearly in Grand Rapids, Chicago and New York, and of course every piece is made upon honor, mostly by hand in fact. The R. H. White Co. bought many thousands of dollars' worth of these sample pieces at prices that enable them to sell them for less than inferior made furniture brings.

For a smart Tailor Gown or a Safety Riding Habit made from the choicest English cloths, visit V. Ballard & Sons, Tailors, 256 Boylston Street. A splendid assortment of model garments in both imported and original designs are shown.

At the new linen department in the L. P. Hollander & Co.'s store they are showing a line of fine table linen in exclusive designs. Luncheon and dinner sets, fine damask cloths and lace scarf centrepieces in a large variety of patterns at prices to meet the closest competition.

The Russian Importing Company, 355 Boylston Street, display a beautiful and attractive line of goods made by the Russian peasants in brass, copper, bronze, silver and woodenware, suitable for home decoration, prizes, etc.; also homespun linen, hand-made centrepieces, doylies and scarfs in drawn work, laces and waist patterns. Visitors are always welcome.

The Burditt & Williams Company, for nearly fifty years in Dock Square, have concentrated their extensive business at 4 High Street, corner Summer, and offer an unsurpassed assortment of fine cutlery, tools of every sort, general hardware and household supplies.

The Smith Patterson Company, Diamond Merchants, Jewelers and Silversmiths at 52 Summer Street, carry the largest stock of diamonds and precious stones in New England, and we advise all intending purchasers in this line to see their stock. They invite a comparison of prices.

DID YOU EVER THINK
now absolutely essential to the pleasure of eating is a cheery, homelike atmosphere? We are very proud of the
RATHSKELLER ATMOSPHERE
We have spent a good deal of money to make it just right, and those who dine with us tell us that it was money well expended. There is one thing, however, in which we take even more pride, and that is
RATHSKELLER FOOD
It is just a little bit better than, a little bit tastier than can be found anywhere else in Boston. And the best part of it is that our prices are a little lower than any other first-class hotel in the city.

THINGS WORTH SEEING

There are several important changes at the theatres this week. "The Title Mart," a farce comedy which will serve to introduce Winston Churchill as a playwright, comes to the Majestic Theatre. Sam Bernard in "The Rollicking Girl," a musical comedy which has had a run of several months in New York, opens at the Hollis ; and Robert Loraine in Bernard Shaw's successful play, "Man and Superman," begins a three weeks' engagement at the Colonial Theatre. This is Mrs. Leslie Carter's farewell week at the Tremont Theatre in her notable creation, "Zaza." William Collier has scored a big hit here in his delightful comedy, "On the Quiet," at the Park Theatre; and the musical extravaganza, "The Pearl and the Pumpkin," with the famous Ercole-Ariaza Castilian Dancers and Troubadours, continues to fill the Boston Theatre at every performance. "In New York Town" is the attraction at the Globe Theatre, and "Tracked Around the World" at the Grand Opera House. The Empire Stock Company will present their first Shakespearean production, "The Taming of the Shrew," with Mary Hall and Howard Hansel in the principal rôles at the Empire Theatre. "The Edge of the Storm" is the offering at the Castle Square Theatre this week. Harry Houdini, "The Handcuff King," proves to be more mystifying each week of his engagement at the Keith Theatre, and in addition to his other act he is now escaping from a regulation straitjacket in full view of the audience, at every performance. Burlesque at the Howard, Lyceum, Columbia and Palace.

The Music Hall Zoo, which has been opened to the public in the new auditorium recently constructed under the Empire Theatre, gives promise of proving a most interesting and instructive exhibition. The collection of animals shown represents some of the most notable specimens of foreign and domestic beasts ever assembled in New England and the aviary and monkey cage afford intense amusement to patrons. This exhibition is open from 11 A. M. to 11 P. M. daily.

The collections of the Museum of Fine Arts are among the first in the world; and illustrates the art of Egypt, Greece, Rome, the Orient, and modern Europe and America. The galleries contain paintings, sculpture, textiles, ceramics, iron and wood work, prints, together with examples of precious objects. There are also numerous reproductions and an art library. Photographs of objects in Museum on sale at entrance.

SHOPPING NEWS

Josiah T. Dyer, the Boylston Street haberdasher, is displaying some attractive novelties in soft shirts, fancy waistcoats, neckwear and hosiery for the coming season. He believes in the early showing of these goods and is always one of the first to show novelties.

The finest line of antique Oriental rugs ever shown in this city are on exhibition at the Thomas O'Callaghan & Co. store, 30 Summer Street. Their corps of experienced salesmen will give you reliable information that may be of great value in selecting rugs.

Miss Fisk's shop at 144 Tremont Street is a wonderfully attractive place. There is a splendid showing of everything in Gloves and up-to-date neckwear, belts and veilings, also a large line of lingerie waists, in beautiful designs, so carefully shaped and made that they are equal to custom ones.

The March Furniture sale now being held by the R. H. White Co. is characterized by the offering of most wonderful bargains in furniture samples. These samples were made by the different manufacturers to exhibit at the expositions held yearly in Grand Rapids, Chicago and New York, and of course every piece is made upon honor, mostly by hand in fact. The R. H. White Co. bought many thousands of dollars' worth of these sample pieces at prices that enable them to sell them for less than inferior made furniture brings.

For a smart Tailor Gown or a Safety Riding Habit made from the choicest English cloths, visit V. Ballard & Sons, Tailors, 256 Boylston Street. A splendid assortment of model garments in both imported and original designs are shown.

Hall & Hancock, at 420 Washington Street, are exhibiting their spring fashions in men's hats. The special hat they are selling for $3.50 is the best in workmanship, quality and style that can be produced for the money.

At the new linen department in the L. P. Hollander & Co.'s store they are showing a line of fine table linen in exclusive designs. Luncheon and dinner sets, fine damask cloths and lace scarf centrepieces in a large variety of patterns at prices to meet the closest competition.

The Burditt & Williams Company, for nearly fifty years in Dock Square, have concentrated their extensive business at 4 High Street, corner Summer, and offer an unsurpassed assortment of fine cutlery, tools of every sort, general hardware and household supplies.

Professional people should take advantage of the special sale of make-up boxes at the Klein Pharmacy, opposite Hotel Touraine, all this week. A black enamelled box, with handle, tray, lock and key complete, for thirty-seven cents. This box can be fitted out with everything required as make-up from a full line of Hess, Meyer's or Leichmer's goods and the celebrated Ylang Ylang Cold Cream.

DID YOU EVER THINK
now absolutely essential to the pleasure of eating is a cheery, homelike atmosphere? We are very proud of the
RATHSKELLER ATMOSPHERE
We have spent a good deal of money to make it just right, and those who dine with us tell us that it was money well expended. There is one thing, however, in which we take even more pride, and that is
RATHSKELLER FOOD
It is just a little bit better than, a little bit tastier than can be found anywhere else in Boston. And the best part of it is that our prices are a little lower than any other first-class hotel in the city.

THINGS WORTH SEEING

There are several important changes at the theatres this week. "The Social Whirl," a musical comedy with a big cast of favorites including Adele Ritchie and Ross and Fenton, comes to the Majestic Theatre for a limited engagement. At the Tremont Theatre David Belasco presents "The Heart of Maryland" with Odette Tyler, Edna Wallace Hopper and Orrin Johnson in the cast, and "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" returns to the Boston Theatre. Sam Bernard in "The Rollicking Girl," a musical comedy which has had a run of several months in New York, is at the Hollis; and Robert Loraine in Bernard Shaw's successful play, "Man and Superman," at the Colonial Theatre. William Collier has scored a big hit here in his delightful comedy, "On the Quiet," at the Park Theatre; "In Old Kentucky" is the attraction at the Globe Theatre, and "The House of Mystery" at the Grand Opera House. The Empire Stock Company will present "The Wife" in response to a large number of requests by patrons, with Mary Hall and Howard Hansel in the principal rôles at the Empire Theatre. "When Knighthood was in Flower" is the offering at the Castle Square Theatre this week. Harry Houdini, "The Handcuff King," proves to be more mystifying each week of his engagement at the Keith Theatre, and in addition to his other act he is now escaping from a regulation straitjacket in full view of the audience, at every performance. Burlesque at the Howard, Lyceum, Columbia and Palace.

The Music Hall Zoo, which has been opened to the public in the new auditorium recently constructed under the Empire Theatre, gives promise of proving a most interesting and instructive exhibition. The collection of animals shown represents some of the most notable specimens of foreign and domestic beasts ever assembled in New England and the aviary and monkey cage afford intense amusement to patrons. This exhibition is open from 11 A. M. to 11 P. M. daily.

The collections of the Museum of Fine Arts are among the first in the world; and illustrates the art of Egypt, Greece, Rome, the Orient, and modern Europe and America. The galleries contain paintings, sculpture, textiles, ceramics, iron and wood work, prints, together with examples of precious objects. There are also numerous reproductions and an art library. Photographs of objects in Museum on sale at entrance.

may be gained by conferring with us when you need the services of a reliable optician.

We make a specialty of examining the eyes, and fit them to glasses only if we find that glasses will be of benefit to you. If you are now wearing glasses, and need them changed or repaired, we can replace them in the shortest time possible, as we are one of the few opticians who do their own grinding of lenses.

SHOPPING NEWS

The Macullar Parker Company at 400 Washington Street have some excellent bargains in boys' and youths' clothing and furnishings. The department has been changed and enlarged, giving better facilities for the display of the goods and convenience of purchasers.

The Paris model gowns for afternoon and calling use and the smart English Walking Suits shown by V. Ballard & Sons, 256 Boylston Street, are liberally selected these days by some of the best dressed ladies of Boston and New England for their spring costumes. The Ballard Safety Riding Habit is a specialty with this firm.

The handsomest display of Oriental rugs ever seen in Boston may be found on the R. H. White Company, third floor. There is a great sale now in progress of a famous collector's stock and in it are rugs of almost priceless value; one beauty being marked at $10,000, another at $4,750, but whatever the price it is not more than half what would ordinarily be asked for the same quality and weave of rug.

Blanchard, King & Co., of 250 Boylston Street, are showing a new importation of beautiful embroidered dress patterns in white batiste and linen. Their men's custom shirt department is booking many nice orders from their rare selection of exclusive Scotch shirtings.

"The Russian Importing Company, 355 Boylston Street, are holding their annual March sale of Russian Peasant Industries in fine hand drawn linens in squares, scarfs, doilies, etc., also a unique line of brass, copper, bronze, silver and wooden ware which are sold at a great reduction. Visitors are cordially invited.

Professional people should take advantage of the special sale of make-up boxes at the Klein Pharmacy, opposite Hotel Touraine, all this week. A black enamelled box, with handle, tray, lock and key complete, for thirty-seven cents. This box can be fitted out with everything required as make-up from a full line of Hess, Meyer's or Leichmer's goods and the celebrated Ylang Ylang Cold Cream.

Josiah T. Dyer, the Boylston Street haberdasher, is displaying some attractive novelties in soft shirts, fancy waistcoats, neckwear and hosiery for the coming season. He believes in the early showing of these goods and is always one of the first to show novelties.

Hall & Hancock, at 420 Washington Street, are exhibiting their spring fashions in men's hats. The special hat they are selling for $3.50 is the best in workmanship, quality and style that can be produced for the money.

DID YOU EVER THINK
how absolutely essential to the pleasure of eating is a cheery, homelike atmosphere? We are very proud of the
RATHSKELLER ATMOSPHERE
We have spent a good deal of money to make it just right, and those who dine with us tell us that it was money well expended. There is one thing, however, in which we take even more pride, and that is
RATHSKELLER FOOD
It is just a little bit better than, a little bit tastier than can be found anywhere else in Boston. And the best part of it is that our prices are a little lower than any other first-class hotel in the city.

THINGS WORTH SEEING

Ethel Barrymore comes to the Hollis St. Theatre this week in J. M. Barrie's comedy, "Alice Sit-by-the-Fire." This is the last week of the Bernard Shaw comedy, "Man and Superman," at the Colonial Theatre. Wm. Collier, in "On the Quiet," at the Park Theatre; "The Heart of Maryland" at the Tremont, and the big musical satire, "The Social Whirl," at the Majestic. At the Boston Theatre "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" continues to please large audiences. Those popular colored comedians, Williams and Walker, will be at the Globe Theatre all this week in their new musical comedy, "Abyssinia." "How Hearts are Broken" will be the attraction at the Grand Opera House, and Sardou's "The Exiles" at the Castle Square Theatre. At the Empire Theatre the management will present the Clyde Fitch comedy, "The Way of the World," with an entire new cast in the Empire Stock Company. Burlesque at the Lyceum, Howard, Columbia and Palace. The greatest sensation of the stage, Houdini, the wizard, is putting on an entire new exhibition each week of his engagement at the Keith Theatre and continues to be more mystifying in each new act. The surrounding show is unusually strong. Automobilists should not fail to see Harry Tate's act, "Motoring." It is a burlesque on an automobile trip, and is the funniest twenty-minute interlude that has been presented on any stage this season.

The Music Hall Zoo, which has been opened to the public in the new auditorium recently constructed under the Empire Theatre, gives promise of proving a most interesting and instructive exhibition. The collection of animals shown represents some of the most notable specimens of foreign and domestic beasts ever assembled in New England and the aviary and monkey cage afford intense amusement to patrons. This exhibition is open from 11 A. M. to 11 P. M. daily.

The collections of the Museum of Fine Arts are among the first in the world; and illustrates the art of Egypt, Greece, Rome, the Orient, and modern Europe and America. The galleries contain paintings, sculpture, textiles, ceramics, iron and wood work, prints, together with examples of precious objects. There are also numerous reproductions and an art library. Photographs of objects in Museum on sale at entrance.

may be gained by conferring with us when you need the services of a reliable optician.

We make a specialty of examining the eyes, and fit them to glasses only if we find that glasses will be of benefit to you. If you are now wearing glasses, and need them changed or repaired, we can replace them in the shortest time possible, as we are one of the few opticians who do their own grinding of lenses.

SHOPPING NEWS

The E. T. Slattery Company's importations for the spring season are attracting widespread attention. Their collection of suits, coats, costumes millinery and French novelties has never been surpassed.

Automobile owners will find lanterns, speedometers, goggles and various sundries necessary to the comfort of owner and chauffeur at the hardware store of Burditt & Williams Company, 4 High Street, corner Summer, near South Station. They are also agents for the well-known Panther Clincher Tires.

The display of Easter gloves at Miss M. F. Fisk's, 144 Tremont Street, is very attractive, coming in all lengths, in colors gray, tan, white and black, in makes that fit perfectly.

The Smith Patterson Company, at 52 Summer Street, are showing a remarkable line of articles suitable for Easter gifts, not only in sterling silver and cut glass, but also in a very large variety of odd and unusual pieces that are not likely to be duplicated and that would make most acceptable gifts, in prices ranging from the very moderate priced articles up through to the larger and more important pieces in Royal Vienna and choice pieces of ivory carvings.

The Macullar Parker Company at 400 Washington Street have some excellent bargains in boys' and youths' clothing and furnishings. The department has been changed and enlarged, giving better facilities for the display of the goods and convenience of purchasers.

The Paris model gowns for afternoon and calling use and the smart English Walking Suits shown by V. Ballard & Sons, 256 Boylston Street, are liberally selected these days by some of the best dressed ladies of Boston and New England for their spring costumes. The Ballard Safety Riding Habit is a specialty with this firm.

The handsomest display of Oriental rugs ever seen in Boston may be found on the R. H. White Company, third floor. There is a great sale now in progress of a famous collector's stock and in it are rugs of almost priceless value; one beauty being marked at $10,000, another at $4,750, but whatever the price it is not more than half what would ordinarily be asked for the same quality and weave of rug.

Blanchard, King & Co., of 250 Boylston Street, are showing a new importation of beautiful embroidered dress patterns in white batiste and linen. Their men's custom shirt department is booking many nice orders from their rare selection of exclusive Scotch shirtings.

DID YOU EVER THINK
how absolutely essential to the pleasure of eating is a cheery, homelike atmosphere? We are very proud of the
RATHSKELLER ATMOSPHERE
We have spent a good deal of money to make it just right, and those who dine with us tell us that it was money well expended. There is one thing, however, in which we take even more pride, and that is
RATHSKELLER FOOD
It is just a little bit better than, a little bit tastier than can be found anywhere else in Boston. And the best part of it is that our prices are a little lower than any other first-class hotel in the city.

THINGS WORTH SEEING

The co-star engagement of James K. Hackett and Mary Mannering in Alfred Sutro's drama, "The Walls of Jericho," opens at the Tremont Theatre for a limited stay of two weeks. The dramatic essayists in both the daily prints and magazines have proclaimed "The Walls of Jericho" as the best drama of years. George M. Cohan's "Forty-five Minutes from Broadway," with Fay Templeton and Victor Moore, comes to the Colonial Theatre, opening Monday night with a testimonial benefit to T. B. Lothian, George F. Mathews and A. E. Lothian, business officials of this theatre. Victor Moore, who has made a great big hit as "Kid Burns" in this production, will be remembered by Keith patrons in the sketch "Change Your Act," which has played the Keith circuit many times. Annie Russell opens at the Park Theatre in a new play called "Friend Hannah." Miss Russell claims this is the best thing she has ever undertaken. "The Earl and the Girl" with Eddie Foy in the rôle of Jim Cheese, the dog trainer, has returned to Boston, and there is no doubt but what the S. R. O. sign will be used at every performance during its run at the Majestic. On account of Miss Ethel Barrymore's illness, her company has disbanded and "Mrs. Leffingwell's Boots" will be put on at the Hollis Street Theatre with the same company that was at the Park Theatre earlier this season. "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" is playing the last week of its engagement at the Boston Theatre. Edmund Day's western drama, "Behind the Mask," will be at the Globe all this week, and Blaney's "Across the Pacific" will be the attraction at the Grand Opera House. The Empire Stock Company is putting on "The Dancing Girl" by Henry Arthur Jones, at the Empire Theatre, and a new production of "The Three Musketeers" will be the attraction at the Castle Square Theatre. Burlesque at the Howard, Lyceum, Columbia and Palace.

This is positively the last week of Houdini, the greatest sensation of the stage, and no one should miss seeing his marvellous performance. The surrounding show is unusually strong, Harry Gilford, late of "The Pearl and the Pumpkin," is one of the many features for this week.

An unusual interest is being shown in the performance of Haydn's oratorio, "The Seasons," by the Handel and Haydn Society on the evening of Easter Sunday, April 15, at Symphony Hall. This fine old oratorio, originally given over one hundred years ago, has not been heard by the Handel and Haydn Society for over thirty years. The assisting soloists will be Miss Anita Rio, soprano; Ben Davies, tenor; and Henri G. Scott, bass.

Among other things worth seeing is the

SHOPPING NEWS

The Paris model gowns for afternoon and calling use and the smar English Walking Suits shown by V. Ballard & Sons, 256 Boylston Street, are liberally selected these days by some of the best dressed ladies of Boston and New England for their spring costumes. The Ballard Safety Riding Habi is a specialty with this firm.

Blanchard, King & Co., of 250 Boylston Street, are showing a most entic ing line of men's neckwear in all the new spring shades, as well as their ex clusive assortment of Scotch shirtings in large variety.

In buying toilet articles one finds a differenne in drug stores. Some o them sell tooth paste which hardens up and refuses to come out of the tube and toothbrushes which grow bald too early. At Klein's Pharmacy, oppo site Hotel Touraine, the goods can be recommended as doing none of thes things. They have recently put on sale a cold capsule which is one of th most gratifying remedies ever invented.

The E. T. Slattery Company's importations for the spring season ar attracting widespread attention. Their collection of suits, coats, costume millinery and French novelties has never been surpassed.

Automobile owners will find lanterns, speedometers, goggles an various sundries necessary to the comfort of owner and chauffeur at th hardware store of Burditt & Williams Company, 4 High Street, corne Summer, near South Station. They are also agents for the well-know Panther Clincher Tires.

The display of Easter gloves at Miss M. F. Fisk's, 144 Tremon Street, is very attractive, coming in all lengths, in colors gray, tan, whit and black, in makes that fit perfectly.

The Smith Patterson Company, at 52 Summer Street, are showing remarkable line of articles suitable for Easter gifts, not only in sterlin silver and cut glass, but also in a very large variety of odd and unusua pieces that are not likely to be duplicated and that would make mos acceptable gifts, in prices ranging from the very moderate priced article up through to the larger and more important pieces in Royal Vienna an choice pieces of ivory carvings.

The Macullar Parker Company at 400 Washington Street have som excellent bargains in boys' and youths' clothing and furnishings. Th department has been changed and enlarged, giving better facilities for th display of the goods and convenience of purchasers.

DID YOU EVER THINK
now absolutely essential to the pleasure of eating is a cheery, homelike atmosphere? We are very proud of the
RATHSKELLER ATMOSPHERE
We have spent a good deal of money to make it just right, and those who dine with us tell us that it was money well expended. There is one thing, however, in which we take even more pride, and that is
RATHSKELLER FOOD
It is just a little bit better than, a little bit tastier than can be found anywhere else in Boston. And the best part of it is that our prices are a little lower than any other first-class hotel in the city.

THINGS WORTH SEEING

All the theatres will have a special Patriots' Day matinee this week Thursday. At the Hollis Street Theatre Klaw & Erlanger present McIntyre & Heath in the new musical extravaganza, "The Ham Tree." Andrew Mack, in "The Way to Kenmare," comes to the Boston Theatre for a limited engagement. James K. Hackett and Mary Mannering in Alfred Sutro's drama, "The Walls of Jericho," is at the Tremont Theatre, and George M. Cohan's "Forty-five Minutes from Broadway," with Fay Templeton and Victor Moore, at the Colonial Theatre. Victor Moore, who has made a great big hit as Kid Burns in this production, will be remembered by Keith patrons in the sketch "Change Your Act," which has played the Keith circuit many times. Annie Russell is at the Park Theatre in a new play called "Friend Hannah." "The Earl and the Girl," with Eddie Foy in the rôle of Jim Cheese, the dog trainer, is at the Majestic, and there is no doubt but what the S. R. O. sign will be used at every performance during its run here. The western drama, "Texas," will be at the Globe all this week, and Florence Bindley, in "The Street Singer," will be the attraction at the Grand Opera House. The Empire Stock Company is putting on "Under Two Flags" at the Empire Theatre, and "Romeo and Juliet" will be the attraction at the Castle Square Theatre. Burlesque at the Howard, Lyceum, Columbia and Palace.

The Great Lafayette with a company of over thirty people is at Keith's Theatre this week, together with a great surrounding show of headliners in vaudeville.

An unusual interest is being shown in the performance of Haydn's oratorio, "The Seasons, by the Handel and Haydn Society on the evening of Easter Sunday, April 15, at Symphony Hall. This fine old oratorio, originally given over one hundred years ago, has not been heard by the Handel and Haydn Society for over thirty years. The assistant soloists will be Miss Anita Rio, soprano; Ben Davies, tenor; and Henri G. Scott, bass.

Among other things worth seeing is the

may be gained by conferring with us when you need the services of a reliable optician.

We make a specialty of examining the eyes, and fit them to glasses only if we find that glasses will be of benefit to you. If you are now wearing glasses, and need them changed or repaired, we can replace them in the shortest time possible, as we are one of the few opticians who do their own grinding of lenses.

SHOPPING NEWS

Different from everything else. Every article in their shop bears the earmarks of oddity, quaintness and beauty, and is the product of Russian peasant handicraft. Artistic brass and copper ware in infinite variety can be found at the Russian Importing Company's, 355 Boylston Street.

On looking over the large assortment of men's goods carried by Hall & Hancock, Hatters, 420 Washington Street, we notice some very fine shades in Men's Gloves. They also have a fine line of canes and umbrellas.

The Easter display of the R. H. White Comp ny is said to be the finest the house has ever shown. The two weeks immediately following Easter have come to be recognized as a time for the best spring bargains, and the R. H. White Company fully meet the demand.

The Macullar Parker Company, at 400 Washington Street, are showing their spring overcoats. It is worth while to examine the stock both for men and boys.

A strikingly beautiful display of men's neckwear in the new and fashionable shades is being made by Josiah T. Dyer, the Boylston Street Haberdasher, and is certainly worthy of more than passing interest.

The E. T. Slattery Company's importations for the spring season are attracting widespread attention. Their collection of suits, coats, costumes, millinery and French novelties has never been surpassed.

Automobile owners will find lanterns, speedometers, goggles and various sundries necessary to the comfort of owner and chauffeur at the hardware store of Burditt & Williams Company, 4 High Street, corner Summer, near South Station. They are also agents for the well-known Panther Clincher Tires.

The Paris model gowns for afternoon and calling use and the smart English walking suits shown by V. Ballard & Sons, 256 Boylston Street, are liberally selected these days by some of the best dressed ladies of Boston and New England for their spring costumes. The Ballard Safety Riding Habit is a specialty with this firm.

DID YOU EVER THINK
how absolutely essential to the pleasure of eating is a cheery, homelike atmosphere? We are very proud of the
RATHSKELLER ATMOSPHERE
We have spent a good deal of money to make it just right, and those who dine with us tell us that it was money well expended. There is one thing, however, in which we take even more pride, and that is
RATHSKELLER FOOD
It is just a little bit better than, a little bit tastier than can be found anywhere else in Boston. And the best part of it is that our prices are a little lower than any other first-class hotel in the city.

THINGS WORTH SEEING

Bertha Kalich, the new star, whom Harrison Grey Fiske has launched so successfully, comes to the Tremont Theatre Monday for a two weeks' engagement. She will present Maeterlinck's "Monna Vanna" for the first week of her stay. "Cousin Louisa," the new comedy by Frederick Paulding, will be at the Park Theatre this week, and at the Hollis Street Theatre Klaw & Erlanger present McIntyre & Heath in the new musical extravaganza, "The Ham Tree." Andrew Mack, in "The Way to Kenmare," is at the Boston Theatre for the last week of his engagement, and George M. Cohan's "Forty-five Minutes from Broadway," with Fay Templeton and Victor Moore, at the Colonial Theatre. "The Earl and the Girl," with Eddie Foy in the rôle of Jim Cheese, the dog trainer, is at the Majestic, and there is no doubt but what the S. R. O. sign will be used at every performance during its run here. Harry Kellar, the world's greatest magician, will be at the Globe all this week, and "The Smart Set" will be the attraction at the Grand Opera House. The Empire Stock Company is putting on "Under the Red Robe" at the Empire Theatre, and "Soldiers of Fortune" will be the attraction at the Castle Square Theatre. Burlesque at the Howard, Lyceum, Columbia and Palace.

The Great Lafayette with a company of over thirty people is at Keith's Theatre this week, together with a great surrounding show of headliners in vaudeville.

Creatore and his band of fifty-five musicians will be the special feature at Keith's Theatre the week of April 30th.

The collections of the Museum of Fine Arts are among the first in the world; and illustrate the art of Egypt, Greece, Rome, the Orient, and modern Europe and America. The galleries contain paintings, sculpture, textiles, ceramics, iron and wood work, prints, together with examples of precious objects. There are also numerous reproductions and an art library. Photographs of objects in Museum on sale at entrance.

Among other things worth seeing is the

SHOPPING NEWS

The spring and summer suits now shown at L. P. Hollander & Co.'s, Boylston Street and Park Square, include all the latest fabrics and designs for this season. Biscuit-color and string-color are still popular in linen suits, and the princess gowns in lawn and mull and other delicate fabrics bid fair to be increasingly fashionable in 1906. Most of the new coat suits have the circular skirt, and it is well to consider, in buying such a suit, whether the laundress will ruin the shape of it the first time it is tubbed. On this account it pays to get such garments at reputable houses where the tailoring is well done. There is no economy in getting a bargain suit that is unwearable after one washing. There is great economy in paying a good price for a thing that will look well as long as there is anything left of it.

Different from everything else. Every article in their shop bears the earmarks of oddity, quaintness and beauty, and is the product of Russian peasant handicraft. Artistic brass and copper ware in infinite variety can be found at the Russian Importing Company's, 355 Boylston Street.

On looking over the large assortment of men's goods carried by Hall & Hancock, Hatters, 420 Washington Street, we notice some very fine shades in Men's Gloves. They also have a fine line of canes and umbrellas.

The Easter display of the R. H. White Company is said to be the finest the house has ever shown. The two weeks immediately following Easter have come to be recognized as a time for the best spring bargains, and the R. H. White Company fully meet the demand.

The Macullar Parker Company, at 400 Washington Street, are showing their spring overcoats. It is worth while to examine the stock both for men and boys.

A strikingly beautiful display of men's neckwear in the new and fashionable shades is being made by Josiah T. Dyer, the Boylston Street Haberdasher, and is certainly worthy of more than passing interest.

Last week we were favored with a view of some very handsome Paris costumes and London street gowns at V. Ballard & Sons, 256 Boylston Street. We also found interesting the Ballard safety riding habits for hunting and road use of their particular design. This shop certainly has a smart air about it and the firm has the distinction of having held the patronage of Boston and New England's most exclusive families for many years.

DID YOU EVER THINK
how absolutely essential to the pleasure of eating is a cheery, homelike atmosphere? We are very proud of the
RATHSKELLER ATMOSPHERE
We have spent a good deal of money to make it just right, and those who dine with us tell us that it was money well expended. There is one thing, however, in which we take even more pride, and that is
RATHSKELLER FOOD
It is just a little bit better than, a little bit tastier than can be found anywhere else in Boston. And the best part of it is that our prices are a little lower than any other first-class hotel in the city.

THINGS WORTH SEEING

Olga Nethersole comes to the Colonial Theatre this week, presenting "The Labyrinth," by Paul Hervieu, and "Sapho," by Clyde Fitch. This will be Miss Nethersole's first appearance here in these plays. Henry Dixey in "The Man on the Box" comes to the Majestic Theatre. Bertha Kalich, the new star whom Harrison Grey Fiske has launched so successfully, is at the Tremont Theatre. She will present Zola's "Thérèse Raquin" for the last week of her stay. At the Hollis Street Theatre Klaw & Erlanger present McIntyre & Heath in the new musical extravaganza, "The Ham Tree." The big New York Hippodrome production "A Yankee Circus on Mars," with all its big features and a ballet of one hundred and forty-four dancing girls comes to the Boston Theatre. Harry Kellar, the world's greatest magician, will be at the Globe all this week, and "McFadden's Flats" will be the attraction at the Grand Opera House. The Empire Stock Company is putting on "The Charity Ball" at the Empire Theatre, and "The Adventure of Lady Ursula" will be the attraction at the Castle Square Theatre. Burlesque at the Howard, Lyceum, Columbia and Palace.

Creatore and his band of fifty-five musicians will be the special feature at Keith's Theatre this week, together with a great surrounding show of headliners in vaudeville.

The collections of the Museum of Fine Arts are among the first in the world; and illustrate the art of Egypt, Greece, Rome, the Orient, and modern Europe and America. The galleries contain paintings, sculpture, textiles, ceramics, iron and wood work, prints, together with examples of precious objects. There are also numerous reproductions and an art library. Photographs of objects in Museum on sale at entrance.

THE voice of wisdom never spoke in truer words than it does to you to-day advising you to see us when suffering from any ailments of the eyes.

We will examine your eyes and if we find that you need glasses we will fit you with the proper eye-glasses or spectacles and guarantee perfect satisfaction.

If you are wearing glasses and need them changed or repaired we can replace them in the shortest time possible, as we are one of the few opticians who do their own grinding of lenses.

SHOPPING NEWS

The Smith Patterson Company at 52 Summer Street, are showing a remarkable line of articles suitable for wedding gifts, not only in sterling silver and cut glass, but also in a very large variety of odd and unusual pieces that are not likely to be duplicated and that would make most acceptable gifts, in prices ranging from the very moderate-priced articles up through to the larger and more important pieces in Royal Vienna and choice pieces of ivory carvings.

V. Ballard & Sons are making ten per cent to twenty per cent reductions on all orders for plain and elaborately made gowns, tailor street suits and riding habits. The lateness of spring weather and business has brought about this opportunity. Doubtless many ladies who appreciate superb style and quality will visit the establishment of Messrs. Ballard to select several gowns from their imported models the coming week.

Chandler & Barber, at 124 Summer Street, are having this week a special sale of their Boston Favorite sweet peas and English grown nasturtiums. They also carry a full line of flower, vegetable and lawn seeds.

A strikingly beautiful display of men's neckwear in the new and fashionable shades is being made by Josiah T. Dyer, the Boylston Street Haberdasher, and is certainly worthy of more than passing interest.

Miller & Weltch, the opticians at 38 West Street, are offering a choice line of opera glasses, window thermometers, reading glasses and other optical goods. Their prices are reasonable and their goods first-class.

The spring and summer suits now shown at L. P. Hollander & Co.'s, Boylston Street and Park Square, include all the latest fabrics and designs for this season. Biscuit-color and string-color are still popular in linen suits, and the princess gowns in lawn and mull and other delicate fabrics bid fair to be increasingly fashionable in 1906. Most of the new coat suits have the circular skirt, and it is well to consider, in buying such a suit, whether the laundress will ruin the shape of it the first time it is tubbed. On this account it pays to get such garments at reputable houses where the tailoring is well done. There is no economy in getting a bargain suit that is unwearable after one washing. There is great economy in paying a good price for a thing that will look well as long as there is anything left of it.

Different from everything else. Every article in their shop bears the earmarks of oddity, quaintness and beauty, and is the product of Russian peasant handicraft. Artistic brass and copper ware in infinite variety can be found at the Russian Importing Company's, 355 Boylston Street.

On looking over the large assortment of men's goods carried by Hall & Hancock, Hatters, 420 Washington Street, we notice some very fine shades in Men's Gloves. They also have a fine line of canes and umbrellas.

DID YOU EVER THINK
how absolutely essential to the pleasure of eating is a cheery, homelike atmosphere? We are very proud of the
RATHSKELLER ATMOSPHERE
We have spent a good deal of money to make it just right, and those who dine with us tell us that it was money well expended. There is one thing, however, in which we take even more pride, and that is
RATHSKELLER FOOD
It is just a little bit better than, a little bit tastier than can be found anywhere else in Boston. And the best part of it is that our prices are a little lower than any other first-class hotel in the city.

THINGS WORTH SEEING

Nance O'Neil comes to the Hollis Street Theatre this week for a limited engagement, presenting Ibsen's "Rosmersholm," which has never been acted in Boston. The character of "Rebecca West" in this production has already proved one of the strongest in Miss O'Neil's list of powerful creations. At the Tremont Tneatre, Henry W. Savage offers "The Stolen Story," a new play of American newspaper life by Jesse Lynch Williams. Olga Nethersole and her London Company will present four different plays at the Colonial Theatre this week. Henry E. Dixey, in "The Man on the Box," remains at the Majestic, and the big New York Hippodrome production, "A Yankee Circus on Mars," with all its big features and a ballet of one hundred and forty-four dancing girls, is at the Boston Theatre. The Fays will be at the Globe all this week, and Blaney's "The Boy Behind the Gun" will be the attraction at the Grand Opera House. The Empire Stock Company is putting on "Men and Women," with Katherine Grey as the new leading lady, at the Empire Theatre, and Rudyard Kipling's "The Light That Failed" will be the attraction at the Castle Square Theatre. Burlesque at the Howard, Lyceum, Columbia and Palace.

Katie Barry, late comedienne with "Fantana," and the Max Welson troupe of European rope artists will be the special features at Keith's Theatre this week, together with a great surrounding show of headliners in vaudeville.

The collections of the Museum of Fine Arts are among the first in the world; and illustrate the art of Egypt, Greece, Rome, the Orient, and modern Europe and America. The galleries contain paintings, sculpture, textiles, ceramics, iron and wood work, prints, together with examples of precious objects. There are also numerous reproductions and an art library. Photographs of objects in Museum on sale at entrance.

Among other things worth seeing is the

SHOPPING NEWS

It is our belief that nowhere else in Boston has the making and serving of soda water had as careful study and attention as at Klien's Pharmacy, opposite the Hotel Touraine. Their corps of competent men in this department make and serve many fancy drinks not to be found elsewhere. Their egg phosphate and ice cream sodas are unequalled.

In addition to many exclusive novelties in shirts at Dyer's, the Boylston St. Haberdasher, attention is asked to a line of very fine Scotch Madras Cloths, made expressly for them.

Gloves for every occasion, in all lengths and colors, and in many styles not obtainable elsewhere, are shown at Miss M. F. Fisk's, 144 Tremont Street.

Different from everything else. Every article in their shop bears the earmarks of oddity, quaintness and beauty, and is the product of Russian peasant handicraft. Artistic brass and copper ware in infinite variety can be found at the Russian Importing Company's, 355 Boylston Street.

On looking over the large assortment of men's goods carried by Hall & Hancock, Hatters, 420 Washington Street, we notice some very fine shades in Men's Gloves. They also have a fine line of canes and umbrellas.

The Smith Patterson Company at 52 Summer Street, are showing a remarkable line of articles suitable for wedding gifts, not only in sterling silver and cut glass, but also in a very large variety of odd and unusual pieces that are not likely to be duplicated and that would make most acceptable gifts, in prices ranging from the very moderate-priced articles up through to the larger and more important pieces in Royal Vienna and choice pieces of ivory carvings.

V. Ballard & Sons are making ten per cent to twenty per cent reductions on all orders for plain and elaborately made gowns, tailor street suits and riding habits. The lateness of spring weather and business has brought about this opportunity. Doubtless many ladies who appreciate superb style and quality will visit the establishment of Messrs. Ballard to select several gowns from their imported models the coming week.

Chandler & Barber, at 124 Summer Street, are having this week a special sale of their Boston Favorite sweet peas and English grown nasturtiums. They also carry a full line of flower, vegetable and lawn seeds.

DID YOU EVER THINK
how absolutely essential to the pleasure of eating is a cheery, homelike atmosphere? We are very proud of the
RATHSKELLER ATMOSPHERE
We have spent a good deal of money to make it just right, and those who dine with us tell us that it was money well expended. There is one thing, however, in which we take even more pride, and that is
RATHSKELLER FOOD
It is just a little bit better than, a little bit tastier than can be found anywhere else in Boston. And the best part of it is that our prices are a little lower than any other first-class hotel in the city.

THINGS WORTH SEEING

"Zira," the play chosen by the Messrs. Shubert and Henry Miller for the present season's tour of Margaret Anglin, has the best New York record of all the straight dramatic productions of the season. It ran two hundred nights at the Princess Theatre, and now comes to the Majestic this week for a limited engagement with the same company which appeared during its run in New York. Grace George comes to the Colonial Theatre in William A. Brady's production, "The Marriage of William Ashe," adapted by Margaret Mayo from Mrs. Humphry Ward's masterpiece of English fiction. The engagement is for two weeks only. "The Stolen Story," the new newspaper play at the Tremont Theatre, has scored a big hit; the interior of a newspaper office as shown in this production is a decided novelty to most people. Nance O'Neil at the Hollis Street Theatre will open the second and final week of her engagement with a performance of "Magda." The Park Theatre reopens this week Wednesday with an elaborate series of moving pictures of the San Francisco disaster. "A Yankee Circus on Mars," with all its big features and a ballet of one hundred and forty-four dancing girls, is at the Boston Theatre. The Fays will be at the Globe all this week, with their excellent company in vaudeville and mental telepathy. The Empire Stock Company is putting on "The Last Appeal," with Katherine Grey as the new leading lady, at the Empire Theatre, and "Jim the Penman" will be the attraction at the Castle Square Theatre. Burlesque at the Howard, Lyceum, Columbia and Palace.

Salerno, the most expert and dexterous juggler ever seen in Boston, will be the special feature at Keith's Theatre this week, together with a great surrounding show of headliners in vaudeville.

The concert of German songs to be given by the Orpheus Musical Society promises to be one of the musical treats of the season. The society has a chorus of fifty who, under the direction of Carl Kaufmann, have never sung better. The concert is to be given in Jordan Hall, Tuesday evening, May 15, and the songs selected for this public concert are said to be most representative. The chorus will be assisted by the Carolyn Belcher String Quartet and these well-known soloists, Miss Edna May Anderson, soprano, and Miss Ada Roope, contralto.

SHOPPING NEWS

Hats that are made with the idea in view that they shall look as well at the end of the season, barring accidents, as they do at the beginning are unusual. People who wear them will tell you they were bought of A. N. Cook & Co., 161 Tremont Street.

The Smith Patterson Company at 52 Summer Street, are showing a remarkable line of articles suitable for wedding gifts, not only in sterling silver and cut glass, but also in a very large variety of odd and unusual pieces that are not likely to be duplicated and that would make most acceptable gifts, in prices ranging from the very moderate-priced articles up through to the larger and more important pieces in Royal Vienna and choice pieces of ivory carvings.

V. Ballard & Sons are making ten per cent to twenty per cent reductions on all orders for plain and elaborately made gowns, tailor street suits and riding habits. The lateness of spring weather and business has brought about this opportunity. Doubtless many ladies who appreciate superb style and quality will visit the establishment of Messrs. Ballard to select several gowns from their imported models the coming week.

It is our belief that nowhere else in Boston has the making and serving of soda water had as careful study and attention as at Klien's Pharmacy, opposite the Hotel Touraine. Their corps of competent men in this department make and serve many fancy drinks not to be found elsewhere. Their egg phosphate and ice cream sodas are unequalled.

In addition to many exclusive novelties in shirts at Dyer's, the Boylston St. Haberdasher, attention is asked to a line of very fine Scotch Madras Cloths, made expressly for them.

Gloves for every occasion, in all lengths and colors, and in many styles not obtainable elsewhere, are shown at Miss M. F. Fisk's, 144 Tremont Street.

Different from everything else. Every article in their shop bears the earmarks of oddity, quaintness and beauty, and is the product of Russian peasant handicraft. Artistic brass and copper ware in infinite variety can be found at the Russian Importing Company's, 355 Boylston Street.

The old reliable trunk and bag house of H. A. Winship at 16 Tremont Street are showing some entirely new ideas in trunks, and their complete line of leather goods of all kinds is the finest in Boston.

DID YOU EVER THINK
how absolutely essential to the pleasure of eating is a cheery, homelike atmosphere? We are very proud of the
RATHSKELLER ATMOSPHERE
We have spent a good deal of money to make it just right, and those who dine with us tell us that it was money well expended. There is one thing, however, in which we take even more pride, and that is
RATHSKELLER FOOD
It is just a little bit better than a little bit tastier than can be found anywhere else in Boston. And the best part of it is that our prices are a little lower than any other first-class hotel in the city.

IF A MAN'S IN LOVE

THAT'S his business. If a girl's in love, that's her business. If any one is in love with GOOD PRINTING, that's our business. We do modern printing at modern prices. : : : : :

THINGS WORTH SEEING

Several of the theatres have closed for the season, but there are many fine attractions at the houses which remain open. "Zira," the play chosen by the Messrs. Shubert and Henry Miller for the present season's tour of Margaret Anglin, has the best New York record of all the straight dramatic productions of the season. It ran two hundred nights at the Princess Theatre, and is now at the Majestic this week for a limited engagement with the same company which appeared during its run in New York. Grace George is at the Colonial Theatre in William A. Brady's production, "The Marriage of William Ashe," adapted by Margaret Mayo from Mrs. Humphry Ward's masterpiece of English fiction. The engagement ends this week. "The Stolen Story," the new newspaper play at the Tremont Theatre, has scored a big hit; the interior of a newspaper office as shown in this production is a decided novelty to most people. Nance O'Neil at the Hollis Street Theatre will have a testimonial benefit performance on Monday night, presenting scenes from her greatest successes. The Park Theatre has an elaborate series of moving pictures of the San Francisco disaster. The Fays will be at the Globe all this week, with their excellent company in vaudeville and mental telepathy. The Empire Stock Company is putting on "Too Much Johnson," with Katherine Grey and John Craig in the leading roles, at the Empire Theatre, and "Christopher, Jr." will be the attraction at the Castle Square Theatre. Burlesque at the Howard, Lyceum, Columbia and Palace.

The latest novelty in vaudeville, "Rossi's Musical Horse," will be the special feature at Keith's Theatre this week, together with a great surrounding show of headliners in vaudeville.

The collections of the Museum of Fine Arts are among the first in the world; and illustrate the art of Egypt, Greece, Rome, the Orient, and modern Europe and America. The galleries contain paintings, sculpture, textiles, ceramics, iron and wood work, prints, together with examples of precious objects. There are also numerous reproductions and an art library. Photographs of objects in Museum on sale at entrance.

Among other things worth seeing is the

SHOPPING NEWS

The approach of warm weather leads to considerations of outdoor comforts. The Burditt & Williams Co. have opened a very attractive display of Hammocks at prices ranging from $1.00 to $6.00 at their new hardware store, 4 High Street, corner Summer Street.

The handsome new store of the Charles E. Lauriat Company, in the Washington building, is now one of the sights of the city, and visitors who want to see what an up-to-date bookstore looks like must include it in their tour.

V. Ballard & Sons, 256 Boylston Street, are showing an attractive line of fine London Worsteds, Tweeds and Linens for Ladies' Street and Traveling Suits. The Ballard Safety Riding Habits are made only by this firm. Visitors to the city may be assured of courteous treatment. Materials and models cheerfully exhibited.

If you care for the fine distinctions that raise a hat above the average without making it in any degree obtrusive in style, go to A. N. Cook & Co., 161 Tremont Street.

The old reliable trunk and bag house of H. A. Winship at 16 Tremont Street are showing some entirely new ideas in trunks, and their complete line of leather goods of all kinds is the finest in Boston.

In addition to many exclusive novelties in shirts at Dyer's, the Boylston St. Haberdasher, attention is asked to a line of very fine Scotch Madras Cloths, made expressly for them.

Gloves for every occasion, in all lengths and colors, and in many styles not obtainable elsewhere, are shown at Miss M. F. Fisk's, 144 Tremont Street.

Different from everything else. Every article in their shop bears the earmarks of oddity, quaintness and beauty, and is the product of Russian peasant handicraft. Artistic brass and copper ware in infinite variety can be found at the Russian Importing Company's, 355 Boylston Street.

DID YOU EVER THINK
how absolutely essential to the pleasure of eating is a cheery, homelike atmosphere? We are very proud of the
RATHSKELLER ATMOSPHERE
We have spent a good deal of money to make it just right, and those who dine with us tell us that it was money well expended. There is one thing, however, in which we take even more pride, and that is
RATHSKELLER FOOD
It is just a little bit better than, a little bit tastier than can be found anywhere else in Boston. And the best part of it is that our prices are a little lower than any other first-class hotel in the city.

IF A MAN'S IN LOVE

THAT'S his business. If a girl's in love, that's her business. If any one is in love with GOOD PRINTING, that's our business. We do modern printing at modern prices. : : : : :

THINGS WORTH SEEING

Henry W. Savage's summer production, "The Man from Now," with Harry Bulger as the star, opens at the Tremont Theatre on Wednesday afternoon. The advance sale of seats has been enormous. At the Majestic Henry Miller and Margaret Anglin will appear in a new play, "Young Fernald," a straight comedy of modern social atmosphere. The engagement is for this week only. Melville B. Baymond's cartoon comedy, "Buster Brown," comes to the Globe this week, and the Castle Square Theatre is putting on "The Jilt" as the attraction for the last week of the dramatic season. At the Empire Theatre the attraction will be the modern play by Henry Arthur Jones, "Mrs. Dane's Defence," with John Craig and Katherine Grey in the leading rôles. The burlesque houses are all open, and one is always sure to see a good musical show with vaudeville acts interspersed at the Lyceum, Columbia, Howard and Palace.

Katie Barry, the clever little comedienne, formerly of "Fantana" and "The Chinese Honeymoon," and the girl who made "My 'Enery Brown" popular, has been scoring a big hit in the vaudeville theatres of the Keith circuit in the West. She will appear at Keith's local theatre this week.

The annual opening of Norumbega Park will take place this season on Decoration Day. The park is more beautiful than ever before with new effects brought about by the skill of the landscape gardener, and a quantity of new attractions and amusements have been provided for this season

"Wonderland," Boston's new million dollar pleasure park at Revere Beach, opens Memorial Day, May 30. This park will be a revelation to Boston and New England people, as it is by far the biggest thing of the kind ever attempted in this part of the country All the big attractions that have been so successful at Dreamland, Luna Park and the St. Louis Exposition will be found at Wonderland, together with many new ones not to be found elsewhere.

Among other things worth seeing is the

SHOPPING NEWS

We have already had a taste of July weather. Straw hat time is here, and the men who wish to be right in the matter of looks as well as comfort will be glad to know that the complete summer showing of straw hats is now on view at Hall & Hancock's, 420 Washington Street.

The Macullar Parker Company at 400 Washington Street are showing an elegant line of summer clothing and haberdashery for both men and boys.

L. P. Hollander & Co., Boylston Street and Park Square, are having a clearance sale of ladies' fine suits. The prices on all garments in this sale are practically cut in half.

Chandler & Barber, at 124 Summer Street, are having this week a special sale of their Boston Favorite sweet peas and English grown nasturtiums. They also carry a full line of flower, vegetable and lawn seeds.

A strikingly beautiful display of men's neckwear in the new and fashionable shades is being made by Josiah T. Dyer, the Boylston Street Haberdasher, and is certainly worthy of more than passing interest.

Miller & Weltch, the opticians at 38 West Street, are offering a choice line of opera glasses, window thermometers, reading glasses and other optical goods. Their prices are reasonable and their goods first-class.

The E. T. Slattery Company, 155 Tremont Street, anticipating the wants for graduating and class days, and for summer wear in general, have provided many exquisite and choice designs in lingerie and net gowns, and dainty waists; suits and coats in linen, pongee and fancy weaves for every occasion. Gloves are shown in the standard makes, all lengths and prices, also the latest novelties in French jewelry and neckwear.

The handsome new store of the Charles E. Lauriat Company, in the Washington building, is now one of the sights of the city, and visitors who want to see what an up-to-date bookstore looks like must include it in their tour.

V. Ballard & Sons, 256 Boylston Street, are showing an attractive line of fine London Worsteds, Tweeds and Linens for Ladies' Street and Traveling Suits. The Ballard Safety Riding Habits are made only by this firm. Visitors to the city may be assured of courteous treatment. Materials and models cheerfully exhibited.

how absolutely essential to the pleasure of eating is a cheerful, home-like atmosphere? We are very proud of the
RATHSKELLER ATMOSPHERE
We have spent a good deal of money to make it just right, and those who dine with us tell us that it was money well expended. There is one thing, however, in which we take even more pride, and that is
RATHSKELLER FOOD
It is just a little bit better than, a little better tastier than can be found anywhere else in Boston. And the best part of it is that our prices are a little lower than any other first-class hotel in the city.

THINGS WORTH SEEING

Boston is going to have quite a few musical comedies this summer. Formerly the Tremont Theatre has been the only house which has ran musical comedies during the hot season, but now the management of the Colonial and Majestic each announce a musical comedy to open Monday, June 4, for a summer run. Harry Bulger, in "The Man from Now," opened last Wednesday at the Tremont Theatre and the piece has scored a big hit. Richard Carle in "The Mayor of Tokio," which comes to the Colonial Monday, is well known in Boston. Mr. Carle and his company played at the Colonial Theatre last fall for two weeks and the S. R. O. sign was displayed nightly, and there is no reason why "The Mayor of Tokio" shouldn't meet with equal success during this engagement. "The Tourists," a brand new musical comedy with Richard Golden and Julia Sanderson, opens at the Majestic Theatre Monday and is advertised to have an all star cast of one hundred people. Richard Golden is a Boston favorite and a clever comedian, while Julia Sanderson will be favorably remembered as the co star with Jefferson De Angelis in "Fantana" last season. The Castle Square start their summer season of light operas Monday with an elaborate production of "The Mikado" and a chorus of forty, and announce a change of bill weekly. The Empire Theatre will have "The Private Secretary" as the attraction this week. The Fadette Orchestra returns to Keith's Theatre for their summer engagement Monday, June 4, and are surrounded by a big bill of headliners in vaudeville. The usual burlesque and vaudeville at the Lyceum, Howard and Palace.

Norumbega Park opened Decoration Day. The park is more beautiful than ever before with new effects brought about by the skill of the landscape gardener, and a quantity of new attractions and amusements has been provided for this season

"Wonderland," Boston's new million dollar pleasure park at Revere Beach, opened Memorial Day. This park is a revelation to Boston and New England people, as it is by far the biggest thing of the kind ever attempted in this part of the country. All the big attractions that have been so successful at Dreamland, Luna Park and the St. Louis Exposition will be found at Wonderland, together with many new ones not to be found elsewhere.

Among other things worth seeing is the

SHOPPING NEWS

Among articles adapted to season requirements offered at the Burditt & Williams Company hardware store, 4 High Street, are lawn and flower seeds, hammocks and a line of ready-to-use paints of a quality hardly equalled by any ever before offered here.

June is the month for weddings, and a choice book makes a lasting souvenir. They can be found in varied style and price at Charles E. Lauriat Company's new store on Washington Street, opposite Franklin.

Straw hat time is here, and the men who wish to be right in the matter of looks as well as comfort will be glad to know that the complete summer showing of straw hats is now on view at Hall & Hancock's, 420 Washington Street.

The Macullar Parker Company at 400 Washington Street are showing an elegant line of summer clothing and haberdashery for both men and boys.

L. P. Hollander & Co., Boylston Street and Park Square, are having a clearance sale of ladies' fine suits. The prices on all garments in this sale are practically cut in half.

A strikingly beautiful display of men's neckwear in the new and fashionable shades is being made by Josiah T. Dyer, the Boylston Street Haberdasher, and is certainly worthy of more than passing interest.

The E. T. Slattery Company, 155 Tremont Street, anticipating the wants for graduating and class days, and for summer wear in general, have provided many exquisite and choice designs in lingerie and net gowns, and dainty waists; suits and coats in linen, pongee and fancy weaves for every occasion. Gloves are shown in the standard makes, all lengths and prices, also the latest novelties in French jewelry and neckwear.

V. Ballard & Sons, 256 Boylston Street, are showing an attractive line of fine London Worsteds, Tweeds and Linens for Ladies' Street and Traveling Suits. The Ballard Safety Riding Habits are made only by this firm. Visitors to the city may be assured of courteous treatment. Materials and models cheerfully exhibited.

Miss M. F. Fisk, 144 Tremont Street, is a very interesting place in which to shop; the gloves, veilings, waists and belts bear the hall mark of the best foreign and American houses.

DID YOU EVER THINK
how absolutely essential to the pleasure of eating is a cheery, homelike atmosphere? We are very proud of the
RATHSKELLER ATMOSPHERE
We have spent a good deal of money to make it just right, and those who dine with us tell us that it was money well expended. There is one thing, however, in which we take even more pride, and that is
RATHSKELLER FOOD
It is just a little bit better than, a little bit tastier than can be found anywhere else in Boston. And the best part of it is that our prices are a little lower than any other first-class hotel in the city.

THINGS WORTH SEEING

"A Nidsummer Night's Dream" is to be the attraction at the Empire Theatre this week, and for this production a large chorus and greatly increased orchestra have been planned for. Director Sullivan has made the version of the play which will be used in this production, and great attention will be given the scenic, mechanical and costume effects incidental to it. Harry Bulger, in "The Man from Now," is at the Tremont Theatre and the piece has scored a big hit. Richard Carle in "The Mayor of Tokio," at the Colonial, is well known in Boston. Mr. Carle and his company played at the Colonial Theatre last fall for two weeks and the S. R. O. sign was displayed nightly, and there is no reason why "The Mayor of Tokio" shouldn't meet with equal success during this engagement. "The Tourists," a brand new musical comedy with Richard Golden and Julia Sanderson, is at the Majestic Theatre with an all star cast and chorus of one hundred people. Richard Golden is a Boston favorite and a clever comedian, while Julia Sanderson will be favorably remembered as the co-star with Jefferson De Angelis in "Fantana" last season. The Castle Square Theatre is putting on an elaborate production of "Il Trovatore," with J. K. Murray, Clara Lane and a chorus of forty. The Fadette Orchestra are at Keith's Theatre for their summer engagement, and are surrounded by a big bill of headliners in vaudeville. The usual burlesque and vaudeville at the Lyceum and Palace.

Norumbega Park is more beautiful than ever before with new effects brought about by the skill of the landscape gardener, and a quantity of new attractions and amusements has been provided for this season. High class vaudeville afternoon and evening.

"Wonderland," Boston's new million dollar pleasure park at Revere Beach, is a revelation to Boston and New England people, as it is by far the biggest thing of the kind ever attempted in this part of the country All the big attractions that have been so successful at Dreamland, Luna Park and the St. Louis Exposition will be found at Wonderland, together with many new ones not to be found elsewhere.

Among other things worth seeing is the

SHOPPING NEWS

A man wears his hat in a more conspicuous place than any other article of apparel. This fact is taken into consideration when Crook hats are made, and especial care is taken that they shall be absolutely correct in style. The address is 161 Tremont Street.

One of the requisites of the vacation season is "something to read." The place to find that in Boston is at Charles E. Lauriat Co.'s new store, opposite the head of Franklin Street.

The E. T. Slattery Company, 368 Tremont Street, anticipating the wants for graduating and class days, and for summer wear in general, have provided many exquisite and choice designs in lingerie and net gowns, and fancy waists; suits and coats in linen, pongee and fancy weaves for every occasion. Gloves are shown in the standard makes, all lengths and prices, also the latest novelties in French jewelry and neckwear.

Blanchard, Kerr & Co. have made heavy reductions in the prices of all their embroidered waist and suit patterns for the balance of the season.

Miss M. F. Fisk, 144 Tremont Street, is a very interesting place in which to shop for gloves, bellings, waists and belts bear the hall mark of the best foreign and American houses.

The Russian Importing Company, 800 Boylston Street, display a beautiful and attractive line of goods made by the Russian peasants in brass, copper, bronze, silver and woodenware, suitable for home decoration, prices, etc.; also homespun linen hand-made centrepieces, doilies and scarfs in drawn work, laces and waist patterns. Visitors are always welcome.

The Smith Patterson Company, at 82 Summer Street, are showing a remarkable line of articles suitable for wedding gifts, not only in sterling silver and cut glass, but also in a very large variety of odd and unusual pieces that are not likely to be duplicated and that would make most acceptable gifts, in prices ranging from the very moderate-priced articles up through to the larger and more important pieces in Royal Vienna and choice pieces of ivory carvings.

The prescription department of the Eliot Pharmacy, corner of Tremont and Boylston streets, is the finest in the city and their corps of seven registered men in this department guarantee accuracy and promptness in the filling of all orders.

DID YOU EVER THINK
how absolutely essential to the pleasure of eating is a cheery, homelike atmosphere? We are very proud of the
RATHSKELLER ATMOSPHERE
We have spent a good deal of money to make it just right, and those who dine with us tell us that it was money well expended. There is one thing, however, in which we take even more pride, and that is
RATHSKELLER FOOD
It is just a little bit better than, a little bit tastier than can be found anywhere else in Boston. And the best part of it is that our prices are a little lower than any other first-class hotel in the city.

THINGS WORTH SEEING

Everything in the summer amusement line is running full blast and pleasure seekers have a wide variety of entertainments to choose from. "The Tourists," the big musical hit at the Majestic, is drawing packed houses nightly; the management having contracted for a summer run of this production in New York the engagement here will be limited. Harry Bulger in "The Man from Now" at the Tremont, and Richard Carle in "The Mayor of Tokio" at the Colonial are most delightful musical entertainments. This is the third week of the summer opera season at the Castle Square Theatre, an excellent company, headed by J. K. Murray and Clara Lane, with a chorus of forty people are putting on "The Chimes of Normandy" this week. The Barnum and Bailey circus is here all this week and will give two shows daily at the Huntington Avenue grounds. There will be no street parade. Boxes and reserved seats for the circus can be obtained at Klien's Pharmacy, opposite Hotel Touraine. At Keith's the Fadette Orchestra is proving to be more popular every week. R. F. Outcault, known throughout the country as the originator of "Buster Brown" and other newspaper illustrations, is only one of the many headliners in the big vaudeville bill this week. The Summer Stock Company at the Lyceum and Palace Theatres are presenting first class burlesque and vaudeville shows.

Paragon Park opened Saturday for its second season with many new features, the most important being the attraction known as "Hades to Paradise," costing $40,000 to build. Paragon Park will be notable for its fre features this season, among them being Mace Gay's Martland Band, Szatamary's Hungarian Orchestra, Philippine Band, Sunny South Band, Duplex Orchestra, Harry Blaney, the man who "sings to beat the band," sand slides, hurly burly and the free open air circus.

"Wonderland," Boston's new million dollar pleasure park at Revere Beach, is a revelation to Boston and New England people, as it is by far the biggest thing of the kind ever attempted in this part of the country All the big attractions that have been so successful at Dreamland,, Luna Park and the St. Louis Exposition will be found at Wonderland together with many new ones not to be found elsewhere.

Among other things worth seeing is the

SHOPPING NEWS

Visitors are finding the "Book Parlor" at the Charles E. Lauriat Co.'s a delightfully cool and pleasant place to rest and meet their friends. Have you seen the Audubon bird pictures?

A very striking and beautiful display of dress wear for men is being made by Josiah T. Dyer, the Boylston Street Haberdasher.

A man wears his hat in a more conspicuous place than any other article of apparel. This fact is taken into consideration when Cook hats are made, and especial care is taken that they shall be absolutely correct in style. The address is 161 Tremont Street.

Blanchard, King & Co. have made heavy reductions in the prices of all their embroidered waist and suit patterns for the balance of the season.

Miss M. F. Fisk, 144 Tremont Street, is a very interesting place in which to shop; the gloves, veilings, waists and belts bear the hall mark of the best foreign and American houses.

The Russian Importing Company, 355 Boylston Street, display a beautiful and attractive line of goods made by the Russian peasants in brass, copper, bronze, silver and woodenware, suitable for home decoration, prizes, etc.; also homespun linen, hand-made centrepieces, doylies and scarfs in drawn work, laces and waist patterns. Visitors are always welcome.

The Smith Patterson Company, at 52 Summer Street, are showing a remarkable line of articles suitable for wedding gifts, not only in sterling silver and cut glass, but also in a very large variety of odd and unusual pieces that are not likely to be duplicated and that would make most acceptable gifts, in prices ranging from the very moderate-priced articles up through to the larger and more important pieces in Royal Vienna and choice pieces of ivory carvings.

The prescription department of the Klein Pharmacy, corner of Tremont and Boylston streets, is the finest in the city, and their corps of seven registered men in this department guarantee accuracy and promptness in the filling of all orders.

DID YOU EVER THINK
how absolutely essential to the pleasure of eating is a cheery, homelike atmosphere? We are very proud of the
RATHSKELLER ATMOSPHERE
We have spent a good deal of money to make it just right, and those who dine with us tell us that it was money well expended. There is one thing, however, in which we take even more pride, and that is
RATHSKELLER FOOD
It is just a little bit better than, a little bit tastier than can be found anywhere else in Boston. And the best part of it is that our prices are a little lower than any other first-class hotel in the city.

THINGS WORTH SEEING

Everything in the summer amusement line is running full blast and pleasure seekers have a wide variety of entertainments to choose from. John Craig and a carefully selected company of players, formerly with the Castle Square and Empire stock companies, will reopen the Globe Theatre Monday and present "The Middleman" all this week, giving two performances daily. Harry Bulger in "The Man from Now" at the Tremont, and Richard Carle in "The Mayor of Tokio" at the Colonial are most delightful musical entertainments. This is the fourth week of the summer opera season at the Castle Square Theatre, an excellent company, headed by J. K Murray and Clara Lane, with a chorus of forty people are putting on "Carmen" this week. At Keith's the Fadette Orchestra is proving to be more popular every week. Robert Hilliard and company will present "As a Man Sows," but is only one of the many headliners in the big vaudeville bill this week. The Summer Stock Company at the Lyceum and Palace Theatres are presenting first class burlesque and vaudeville shows.

"The Tourists" will remain at the Majestic Theatre for two or three weeks longer on account of its big success here.

Paragon Park has opened for its second season with many new features, the most important being the attraction known as "Hades to Paradise," costing $40,000 to build. Paragon Park will be notable for its free features this season, among them being Mace Gay's Martland Band, Szatamary's Hungarian Orchestra, Philippine Band, Sunny South Band, Duplex Orchestra, Harry Blaney, the man who "sings to beat the band," sand slides, hurly burly and the free open air circus.

One fact which makes Wonderland enjoyable at all times, rain or shine, is that there are such abundant shelters under which entertainments of various descriptions, every one up to date and perfect of its kind, are provided. Not the least of these is the model ballroom, with accommodations for one thousand dancers at one time and with Poole's Orchestra playing select music while they trip lightly through the merry mazes of the waltz, schottische or polka. The popularity of the ballroom seems to be forever on the increase and is enhanced in no small measure by the fact that admission to the floor insures to every dancer, without extra charge, the privilege of remaining throughout the entire session. These sessions are for two hours each, every afternoon and evening, and between the dances the beautiful old English custom of a promenade around the circle is in vogue.

Among other things worth seeing is the

SHOPPING NEWS

The toilet parlors of Dr. Rudolph Mertin at 564 Washington Street opposite the Adams House, are the largest in New England, employing over thirty expert operators in the manicure department alone. The hair-dressing department makes a specialty of Marcel waving, and carries a line of hair goods and toilet articles which are the finest in the city. Dr. Mertin's reputation as a chiropodist both here and in New York is well known.

Visitors are finding the "Book Parlor" at the Charles E. Lauriat Co.'s a delightfully cool and pleasant place to rest and meet their friends. Have you seen the Audubon bird pictures?

A man wears his hat in a more conspicuous place than any other article of apparel. This fact is taken into consideration when Cook hats are made, and especial care is taken that they shall be absolutely correct in style. The address is 161 Tremont Street.

Blanchard, King & Co. have made heavy reductions in the prices of all their embroidered waist and suit patterns for the balance of the season.

Miss M. F. Fisk, 144 Tremont Street, is a very interesting place in which to shop; the gloves, veilings, waists and belts bear the hall mark of the best foreign and American houses.

The Russian Importing Company, 355 Boylston Street, display a beautiful and attractive line of goods made by the Russian peasants in brass, copper, bronze, silver and woodenware, suitable for home decoration, prizes, etc.; also homespun linen, hand-made centrepieces, doylies and scarfs in drawn work, laces and waist patterns. Visitors are always welcome.

The Smith Patterson Company, at 52 Summer Street, are showing a remarkable line of articles suitable for wedding gifts, not only in sterling silver and cut glass, but also in a very large variety of odd and unusual pieces that are not likely to be duplicated and that would make most acceptable gifts, in prices ranging from the very moderate-priced articles up through to the larger and more important pieces in Royal Vienna and choice pieces of ivory carvings.

Chandler & Barber, the hardware house at 124 Summer Street, carry a superior line of fishing tackle for the vacation trip, also a line of yacht goods and motor-boat fittings which are very complete.

DID YOU EVER THINK
how absolutely essential, to the pleasure of eating is a cheery, homelike atmosphere? We are very proud of the
RATHSKELLER ATMOSPHERE
We have spent a good deal of money to make it just right, and those who dine with us tell us that it was money well expended. There is one thing, however, in which we take even more pride, and that is
RATHSKELLER FOOD
It is just a little bit better than, a little bit tastier than can be found anywhere else in Boston. And the best part of it is that our prices are a little lower than any other first-class hotel in the city.

Announcement

WE are pleased to announce that a consolidation has been effected by The Walker Company, The S. M. Sears Co., and The Bartlett Press. The new consolidation is a Massachusetts corporation, under the title and style of The Bartlett Company, W. H Bartlett, President, H. O. Stetson, Treasurer, and S. M Sears, Secretary.

The Walker Company is well known in the advertising field as writers, designers and placers of successful advertising; and the new corporation with its extended facilities, covering as they do the entire advertising field, offers to the advertiser, both large and small, a sure and convenient route for the obtaining of successful advertising material.

Our well established reputation for fine work and efficient service will be maintained by the new organization. We are now prepared to take up for or with you such of your work as requires thought in preparation, originality in conception, and forceful convincingness to help you towards the accomplishing of the object for which the matter is designed.

Printed matter when rightly done has great force for the increase of your sales. Let us show you how, when and why this much desired increase can be brought to YOU.

THINGS WORTH SEEING

The three big musical productions are all playing to large audiences regardless of the hot weather, for the public has discovered that these artificially cooled theatres are a very comfortable place to spend an evening. "The Tourists," with an all-star cast, at the Majestic has cancelled some of its New York time to remain here. Richard Carle in "The Mayor of Tokio" at the Colonial, and Harry Bulger in "The Man from Now" at the Tremont are doing a big business and will probably remain all summer. John Craig and his stock company at the Globe Theatre are proving to be very popular, and will present "A Night Off" all this week. At the Castle Square Theatre the Summer Opera Company is delighting large audiences at every performance. This week's bill includes both "Pinafore" and "Cavalleria Rusticana."

The Fadette Orchestra of forty lady musicians at Keith's change their program each week. It is certainly a pleasure to sit in this coolest of theatres during their concerts at 1.45 and 7.30 P. M., but they are only one of the headliners in a great surrounding variety program.

Paragon Park has opened for its second season with many new features, the most important being the attraction known as "Hades to Paradise," costing $40,000 to build. Paragon Park will be notable for its free features this season, among them being Mace Gay's Martland Band, Szatamary's Hungarian Orchestra, Philippine Band, Sunny South Band, Duplex Orchestra, Harry Blaney, the man who "sings to beat the band," sand slides, hurly burly and the free open air circus.

One fact which makes Wonderland enjoyable at all times, rain or shine, is that there are such abundant shelters under which entertainments of various descriptions, every one up to date and perfect of its kind, are provided. Not the least of these is the model ballroom, with accommodations for one thousand dancers at one time and with Poole's Orchestra playing select music while they trip lightly through the merry mazes of the waltz, schottische or polka. The popularity of the ballroom seems to be forever on the increase and is enhanced in no small measure by the fact that admission to the floor insures to every dancer, without extra charge, the privilege of remaining throughout the entire session. These sessions are for two hours each, every afternoon and evening, and between the dances the beautiful old English custom of a promenade around the circle is in vogue.

Among other things worth seeing is the

SHOPPING NEWS

If you want to keep in touch with the new books of the season drop in to Charles E. Lauriat Company's, 385 Washington Street, and get a copy of the July number of "Boston Book Notes." It is just issued and for free distribution.

The R. H. White Company have opened a drug and patent medicine department in the balcony of their Bedford Street Annex and are selling many standard preparations at especially low prices as drawing inducements.

Chandler & Barber, the hardware house at 124 Summer Street, carry a superior line of fishing tackle for the vacation trip, also a line of yacht goods and motor-boat fittings which are very complete.

It is our belief that nowhere else in Boston has the making and serving of soda water had as careful study and attention as at Klein's Pharmacy, opposite the Hotel Touraine. Their corps of competent men in this department make and serve many fancy drinks not to be found elsewhere. Their egg phosphate and ice cream sodas are unequalled.

Different from everything else. Every article in their shop bears the earmarks of oddity, quaintness and beauty, and is the product of Russian peasant handicraft. Artistic brass and copper ware in infinite variety can be found at the Russian Importing Company's, 355 Boylston Street.

The old reliable trunk and bag house of H. A. Winship at 16 Tremont Street are showing some entirely new ideas in trunks, and their complete line of leather goods of all kinds is the finest in Boston.

In addition to many exclusive novelties in shirts at Dyer's, the Boylston St. Haberdasher, attention is asked to a line of very fine outing flannel trousers in all sizes, made expressly for them.

The toilet parlors of Dr. Rudolph Mertin at 564 Washington Street, opposite the Adams House, are the largest in New England, employing over thirty expert operators in the manicure department alone. The hair-dressing department makes a specialty of Marcel waving, and carries a line of hair goods and toilet articles which are the finest in the city. Dr. Mertin's reputation as a chiropodist both here and in New York is well known.

DID YOU EVER THINK
how absolutely essential to the pleasure of eating is a cheery, homelike atmosphere? We are very proud of the
RATHSKELLER ATMOSPHERE
We have spent a good deal of money to make it just right, and those who dine with us tell us that it was money well expended. There is one thing, however, in which we take even more pride, and that is
RATHSKELLER FOOD
It is just a little bit better than a little bat tastier than can be found anywhere else in Boston. And the best part of it is that our prices are a little lower than any other first-class hotel in the city.

Announcement

WE are pleased to announce that a consolidation has been effected by The Walker Company, The S. M. Sears Co., and The Bartlett Press. The new consolidation is a Massachusetts corporation, under the title and style of The Bartlett Company, W. H. Bartlett, President, H. O. Stetson, Treasurer, and S. M. Sears, Secretary.

The Walker Company is well known in the advertising field as writers, designers and placers of successful advertising; and the new corporation with its extended facilities, covering as they do the entire advertising field, offers to the advertiser, both large and small, a sure and convenient route for the obtaining of successful advertising material.

Our well established reputation for fine work and efficient service will be maintained by the new organization. We are now prepared to take up for or with you such of your work as requires thought in preparation, originality in conception, and forceful convincingness to help you towards the accomplishing of the object for which the matter is designed.

Printed matter when rightly done has great force for the increase of your sales. Let us show you how, when and why this much desired increase can be brought to YOU.

THINGS WORTH SEEING

The collections of the Museum of Fine Arts are among the first in the world, and illustrate the art of Egypt, Greece, Rome, the Orient, and modern Europe and America. The galleries contain paintings, sculpture, textiles, ceramics, iron and wood work, prints, together with examples of precious objects. There are also numerous reproductions and an art library.

One of the handsomest conservatories in this country is that of Mr. Thomas F. Galvin on the corner of Boylston and Fairfield streets. It is well worth a visit, not only on account or the architectural beauty of the building, but also for the large variety of rare plants with which it is stocked.

The Fadette Orchestra of forty lady musicians at Keith's change their program each week. It is certainly a pleasure to sit in this coolest of theatres during their concerts at 1.45 and 7.30 P. M., but they are only one of the headliners in a great surrounding variety program.

Paragon Park has opened for its second season with many new features, the most important being the attraction known as " Hades to Paradise," costing $40,000 to build. Paragon Park will be notable for its free features this season, among them being Mace Gay's Martland Band, Szatamary's Hungarian Orchestra, Philippine Band, Sunny South Band, Duplex Orchestra, Harry Blaney, the man who " sings to beat the band," sand slides, hurly burly and the free open air circus.

One fact which makes Wonderland enjoyable at all times, rain or shine, is that there are such abundant shelters under which entertainments of various descriptions, every one up to date and perfect of its kind, are provided. Not the least of these is the model ballroom, with accommodations for one thousand dancers at one time and with Poole's Orchestra playing select music while they trip lightly through the merry mazes of the waltz, schottische or polka. The popularity of the ballroom seems to be forever on the increase and is enhanced in no small measure by the fact that admission to the floor insures to every dancer, without extra charge, the privilege of remaining throughout the entire session. These sessions are for two hours each, every afternoon and evening, and between the dances the beautiful old English custom of a promenade around the circle is in vogue.

Among other things worth seeing is the

SHOPPING NEWS

A man wears his hat in a more conspicuous place than any other article of apparel. This fact is taken into consideration when Cook hats are made, and especial care is taken that they shall be absolutely correct in style. The address is 161 Tremont Street.

Blanchard, King & Co. have made heavy reductions in the prices of all their embroidered waist and suit patterns for the balance of the season.

Miss M. F. Fisk, 144 Tremont Street, is a very interesting place in which to shop; the gloves, veilings, waists and belts bear the hall mark of the best foreign and American houses.

If you want to keep in touch with the new books of the season drop in to Charles E. Lauriat Company's, 385 Washington Street, and get a copy of the July number of "Boston Book Notes." It is just issued and for free distribution.

The R. H. White Company have opened a drug and patent medicine department in the balcony of their Bedford Street Annex and are selling many standard preparations at especially low prices as drawing inducements.

Chandler & Barber, the hardware house at 124 Summer Street, carry a superior line of fishing tackle for the vacation trip, also a line of yacht goods and motor-boat fittings which are very complete.

It is our belief that nowhere else in Boston has the making and serving of soda water had as careful study and attention as at Klein's Pharmacy, opposite the Hotel Touraine. Their corps of competent men in this department make and serve many fancy drinks not to be found elsewhere. Their egg phosphate and ice cream sodas are unequalled.

Different from everything else. Every article in their shop bears the earmarks of oddity, quaintness and beauty, and is the product of Russian peasant handicraft. Artistic brass and copper ware in infinite variety can be found at the Russian Importing Company's, 355 Boylston Street.

DID YOU EVER THINK
how absolutely essential to the pleasure of eating is a cheery, homelike atmosphere? We are very proud of the
RATHSKELLER ATMOSPHERE
We have spent a good deal of money to make it just right, and those who dine with us tell us that it was money well expended. There is one thing, however, in which we take even more pride, and that is
RATHSKELLER FOOD
It is just a little bit better than, a little bit tastier than can be found anywhere else in Boston. And the best part of it is that our prices are a little lower than any other first-class hotel in the city.

Announcement

WE are pleased to announce that a consolidation has been effected by The Walker Company, The S. M. Sears Co., and The Bartlett Press. The new consolidation is a Massachusetts corporation, under the title and style of The Bartlett Company, W. H. Bartlett, President, H. O. Stetson, Treasurer, and S. M. Sears, Secretary.

The Walker Company is well known in the advertising field as writers, designers and placers of successful advertising; and the new corporation with its extended facilities, covering as they do the entire advertising field, offers to the advertiser, both large and small, a sure and convenient route for the obtaining of successful advertising material.

Our well established reputation for fine work and efficient service will be maintained by the new organization. We are now prepared to take up for or with you such of your work as requires thought in preparation, originality in conception, and forceful convincingness to help you towards the accomplishing of the object for which the matter is designed.

Printed matter when rightly done has great force for the increase of your sales. Let us show you how, when and why this much desired increase can be brought to YOU.

THINGS WORTH SEEING

The Boston Public Library in Copley Square is one of the foremost architectural monuments of America, costing $2,500,000. The architects were McKim, Mead & White; the sculptures by Augustus St. Gaudens and D. C. French. The mural paintings by Pavis de Chavaunes, Edwin A. Abbey and John S. Sargent, attract thousands of visitors to this beautiful structure, which contains 900,000 volumes.

The collections of the Museum of Fine Arts are among the first in the world, and illustrate the art of Egypt, Greece, Rome, the Orient, and modern Europe and America. The galleries contain paintings, sculpture, textiles, ceramics, iron and wood work, prints, together with examples of precious objects. There are also numerous reproductions and an art library.

The Fadette Orchestra of forty lady musicians at Keith's change their program each week. It is certainly a pleasure to sit in this coolest of theatres during their concerts at 1.45 and 7.30 P. M., but they are only one of the headliners in a great surrounding variety program.

Paragon Park has opened for its second season with many new features, the most important being the attraction known as "Hades to Paradise," costing $40,000 to build. Paragon Park will be notable for its free features this season, among them being Mace Gay's Martland Band, Szatamary's Hungarian Orchestra, Philippine Band, Sunny South Band, Duplex Orchestra, Harry Blaney, the man who "sings to beat the band," sand slides, hurly burly and the free open air circus.

One fact which makes Wonderland enjoyable at all times, rain or shine, is that there are such abundant shelters under which entertainments of various descriptions, every one up to date and perfect of its kind, are provided. Not the least of these is the model ballroom, with accommodations for one thousand dancers at one time and with Poole's Orchestra playing select music while they trip lightly through the merry mazes of the waltz, schottische or polka. The popularity of the ballroom seems to be forever on the increase and is enhanced in no small measure by the fact that admission to the floor insures to every dancer, without extra charge, the privilege of remaining throughout the entire session. These sessions are for two hours each, every afternoon and evening, and between the dances the beautiful old English custom of a promenade around the circle is in vogue.

Among other things worth seeing is the

SHOPPING NEWS

The R. H. White Company are showing an elegant line of automobile and travelling requisites. Outing hampers of leather and wicker, fitted with tea or luncheon service; travelling bags and suit cases, carry-alls, hat boxes, dressing cases and razor sets, writing cases and an extensive selection of practical novelties for motor or steamer travel.

A few good books form a necessary part or the vacation outfit, and when getting them you may avail yourself of the opportunity to visit Charles E. Lauriat Co.'s handsome new store opposite the head of Franklin Street. It is a store of which Boston is justly proud.

Hewins & Hollis at 4 Hamilton Place, opposite Park Street Church, are showing some very original designs in Men's Summer Neckwear and French Hosiery.

A fascinating store to visit is that of Smith, Patterson & Co., on Summer Street. People in search of silver for wedding gifts or of jewels of any kind should certainly go there. The keynote of the place is exclusiveness.

At Macullar Parker Co.'s may be found boys' complete outfits for summer, English homespuns for Norfolk suits, ready to wear or made to measure.

Some very beautiful hand-embroidered parasols in all the latest colors are being shown by the E. T. Slattery Co. on Tremont Street.

Some particularly beautiful underwear is sold at L. P. Hollander & Co.'s, embroidered, lace trimmed and exquisitely fashioned in original designs. It is not very costly either, when the beauty and the elaborateness of it are considered.

Hall & Hancock's sale of Straw Hats is going on at this time and their entire line may be bought for almost incredibly low prices.

A novelty in an umbrella, called the " London Club," is shown by Josiah T. Dyer at 34 Boylston Street.

DID YOU EVER THINK
how absolutely essential to the pleasure of eating is a cheery, homelike atmosphere. We are very proud of the
RATHSKELLER ATMOSPHERE
We have spent a good deal of money to make it just right, and those who dine with us tell us that it was money well expended. There is one thing, however, in which we take even more pride, and that is
RATHSKELLER FOOD
It is just a little bit better than, a little bit tastier than can be found anywhere else in Boston. And the best part of it is that our prices are a little lower than any other first-class hotel in the city.

THINGS WORTH SEEING

The Boston Public Library in Copley Square is one of the foremost architectural monuments of America, costing $2,500,000. The architects were McKim, Mead & White; the sculptures by Augustus St. Gaudens and D. C. French. The mural paintings by Pavis de Chavannes, Edwin A. Abbey and John S. Sargent, attract thousands of visitors to this beautiful structure, which contains 900,000 volumes.

The collections of the Museum of Fine Arts are among the first in the world, and illustrate the art of Egypt, Greece, Rome, the Orient, and modern Europe and America. The galleries contain paintings, sculpture, textiles, ceramics, iron and wood work, prints, together with examples of precious objects. There are also numerous reproductions and an art library.

The Fadette Orchestra of forty lady musicians at Keith's change their program each week. It is certainly a pleasure to sit in this coolest of theatres during their concerts at 1.45 and 7.30 P. M., but they are only one of the headliners in a great surrounding variety program.

Paragon Park has opened for its second season with many new features, the most important being the attraction known as "Hades to Paradise," costing $40,000 to build. Paragon Park will be notable for its free features this season, among them being Mace Gay's Martland Band, Szatamary's Hungarian Orchestra, Philippine Band, Sunny South Band, Duplex Orchestra, Harry Blaney, the man who "sings to beat the band," sand slides, hurly burly and the free open air circus.

One fact which makes Wonderland enjoyable at all times, rain or shine, is that there are such abundant shelters under which entertainments of various descriptions, every one up to date and perfect of its kind, are provided. Not the least of these is the model ballroom, with accommodations for one thousand dancers at one time and with Poole's Orchestra playing select music while they trip lightly through the merry mazes of the waltz, schottische or polka. The popularity of the ballroom seems to be forever on the increase and is enhanced in no small measure by the fact that admission to the floor insures to every dancer, without extra charge, the privilege of remaining throughout the entire session. These sessions are for two hours each, every afternoon and evening, and between the dances the beautiful old English custom of a promenade around the circle is in vogue.

Among other things worth seeing is the

SHOPPING NEWS

The R. H. White Company are showing an elegant line of automobile and travelling requisites. Outing hampers of leather and wicker, fitted with tea or luncheon service; travelling bags and suit cases, carry-alls, hat boxes, dressing cases and razor sets, writing cases and an extensive selection of practical novelties for motor or steamer travel.

A few good books form a necessary part or the vacation outfit, and when getting them you may avail yourself of the opportunity to visit Charles E. Lauriat Co.'s handsome new store opposite the head of Franklin Street. It is a store of which Boston is justly proud.

Hewins & Hollis at 4 Hamilton Place, opposite Park Street Church, are showing some very original designs in Men's Summer Neckwear and French Hosiery.

A fascinating store to visit is that of Smith, Patterson & Co., on Summer Street. People in search of silver for wedding gifts or of jewels of any kind should certainly go there. The keynote of the place is exclusiveness.

At Macullar Parker Co.'s may be found boys' complete outfits for summer, English homespuns for Norfolk suits, ready to wear or made to measure.

Some very beautiful hand-embroidered parasols in all the latest colors are being shown by the E. T. Slattery Co. on Tremont Street.

Some particularly beautiful underwear is sold at L. P. Hollander & Co.'s, embroidered, lace trimmed and exquisitely fashioned in original designs. It is not very costly either, when the beauty and the elaborateness of it are considered.

Hall & Hancock's sale of Straw Hats is going on at this time and their entire line may be bought for almost incredibly low prices.

A novelty in an umbrella, called the "London Club," is shown by Josiah T. Dyer at 34 Boylston Street.

DID YOU EVER THINK
how absolutely essential to the pleasure of eating is a cheery, homelike atmosphere? We are very proud of the
RATHSKELLER ATMOSPHERE
We have spent a good deal of money to make it just right, and those who dine with us tell us that it was money well expended. There is one thing, however, in which we take even more pride, and that is
RATHSKELLER FOOD
It is just a little bit better than, a little bit tastier than can be found anywhere else in Boston. And the best part of it is that our prices are a little lower than any other first-class hotel in the city.
